I had just purchased another motivational book by Anthony Robbins last week. In fact, that's the fourth Anthony Robbins book that I had bought.

When I got home that day, I realized that I got a shelf full of self improvement books!!

Sometimes, we never did finish reading the books that we had bought.

That's why, I've come up with 5 ways on how you can make full use of the self improvement books that you've bought.

1. Read it several times.

Don't read books as if it's a marathon competition that you must finish reading as many books as possible in your life.

It's better to learn and understand 5 books content that you had read rather than to complete reading 20 books but you cannot understand or remember.

From my experience, I realized that I'll be able to absorb more knowledge and understand what the book is teaching on the second time of reading it.

2. Share the knowledge learned.

Research has shown that if you share with others what you had learned, you'll learn and understand the information much more better. When you shared, you'll also help those who you shared with.

You can also share your thoughts at online forums.

One of the online forum that I post is Anthony Robbins's online website forum,

3. Swap the book you have with you friends.

I know it is fun to collect books. But sometimes, there are some books that you like to read, but you do not necessary need to own or buy it.

Here is an example. My favorite speaker is Anthony Robbins and I listen to all of his audios but, I just like to read Jim Rohn's book. I don't necessary need to buy Jim's book. What I'll do is that, I'll call my friend who likes to buy Jim Rohn's book and exchange with him my Anthony Robbins books.

So, in this way, both of us are happy because we only need to buy one book, but we get to read 2 books.

4. Donate it

Look at your book shelf. Are there any books that you don't read anymore? Rather than leaving it there, why not donate it to the library or charity, where you can help someone else?

This will help 2 types of people; those who really want to read but do not have the money to buy and those who have money to buy, but did not see the value in books so they never did buy.

5. Take action and practice.

I've seen so many people buy books and complete reading it but they never take any action of what they've learned. You have to understand that, no matter how much you understand or learned, if you do not take action, you'll never going to get results.

After you have taken the action, you'll have to practice it consistently to master the knowledge.

A self improvement book invested will bring you many fold of knowledge in return as long as you make full use of it.

Don't waste a book by tossing it away half completed.

Go check on your book shelf to see if there is any books of yours that had been neglected. If it's a good book that you had read before, make it a point to read it again.

If it is not doing anything there, think again what you can do with it in the next 5 minutes.

It is correctly often thought that people's time is valuable and that they do NOT have the time to go shopping in the big book stores – the gas costs, getting stuck in the queues at the checkout...I know what you mean.

But there are other people – like us – online as well as Amazon. If you are looking for one of the top books, people like us display them and allow you to pay by credit card as well. So you save nothing by going to Amazon for bestsellers unless they give you over around 35–40% off paperbacks and coming up to 30% on other books.

Where I agree Amazon does score is that it displays lots of books for you to search through. Others don't either because they are not big enough companies yet or because few people enquire about most books – how often are you interested in seeing all the books Amazon has about kite flying?

They are time saving yes, but because they allow people who are interested in things like kite flying to see books at the expense of people like you who want bestsellers – you pay $1.60 to subsidise kite flyers! So for bestsellers, there is really no need to go to Amazon.... and if you don't care about your $1.60 and you don't need the book urgently, it won't bother you to wait a couple of weeks equally to wait while other people get you the books at a cheaper price...

A UK online bookseller selling books at prices often cheaper than Amazon.co.uk
