ARE YOU WILLING TO PROSPER? by Rhoberta Shaler

Are you willing to prosper in life?

Many people have a feeling that prosperity and spirituality cannot co-exist when, in fact, the two cannot truly exist apart. Some think that, at some level, it is "more spiritual" to live in scarcity and lack, to sacrifice and do without. Is there any of that thinking holding you back?

There are a few fundamentals to consider. First, do you believe that living should be natural, spontaneous and enjoyable? To be fully conscious, intelligent, imaginative, intuitive, and doing the right thing at the right time is the goal. To possess a keen anticipation about what you CAN create in life gives you a great reason to get up in the morning, doesn't it?

To prosper is "to thrive, to flourish, to be successful in every way". Are you willing to entertain this concept as natural rather than as something you have to strive and struggle to achieve?

When you are

- spiritually aware
- mentally competent
- emotionally balanced
- self-responsible (mature)
- physically vital
- in harmony with the rhythms of nature
- enjoying mutually supportive relationships or succeeding in your worthy ventures...

ARE YOU WILLING TO PROSPER?

...YOU ARE PROSPERING.

Each of these are available to you if you will take the necessary steps.

The first step is to clearly understand your major purpose in life. What are you about? What do you stand for? Without a sense of meaningful purpose, you may have a reasonably comfortable lifestyle, but you may neither feel satisfied nor experience all that life has to offer. Switching your thinking from

"What's in it for me?" to "What do I have to contribute?", is a good start.

Then think about your unique talents and abilities? Fully explore these. It is not arrogance to know that you do something well. What are you passionate about? Can you use your unique talents and abilities in the pursuit of your passion? Yes, and it is probably the best, and most satisfying, place to use them, too!

What are the most important, significant and valuable things in your life? Recently I was giving a seminar and I asked the folks, "What would you be willing to burn at the stake for?" A bit extreme but they did get the point. If something—a principle, relationship, belief—is truly valuable to you that needs to be demonstrated by you every minute, doesn't it? It cannot be a principle, relationship or belief that is held or lived only when it's convenient or expedient. You have seen this and it is not pretty!

Living your life in integrity with what you value puts you on the direct path to prosperity in all areas of your life. What better time to get these ducks in a row than NOW?

Embracing Change

ARE YOU WILLING TO PROSPER?

By Daniel N. Brown

Embracing Change by Daniel N. Brown

I love Jesse Duplantis! He is on TBN every Monday night and if I don't get a chance to tune in I'll tape his show and watch him later.

If you got a chance to see him the other night, you will recall he was talking about embracing change.

Most people that I know hate change. They despise it with a passion. Jesse says people hate change because they are insecure and they are afraid of themselves.

Change is the only thing that is constant. It's gonna happen! The question is not even when? Things are always changing. Jesse says to embrace it. But not only that, but prepare for it. This way, you will be ahead of the curve instead of behind it.

Do you realize that if there is something in life that is stagnant, it's in the process of dying?

Question: What is the next step after ripe? Answer: Rotten. We are either moving forward in life or we are in the process of decay. Did you know the only difference between a rut and a grave is the dirt in your face?

If you truly want to enjoy the abundant and prosperous Christian life you must embrace change. Life is all about change and there is no escaping it.

Who wants to experience a life without a challenge anyway? Be honest. How bored would you be with nothing to strive toward? For me personally, I love change. I get bored easily with the same ole, same ole. Lord, give me something new!

I believe people are the most happy when they are working toward a goal. That's why it is said that success is not a destination to be reached. Success is the journey! And along the journey there will be change.

God wants you to prosper! But you will not prosper sitting around fearing the inevitable, which is "change." It's coming. Don't wait for it! Go after it before it comes after you! Be ahead of the curve instead of behind it. Seek change, expect it, prepare for it and prosper.
