Affordable Family Holidays On The Beach!

By Sherwood Caravans

A great beach holiday doesn't have to mean an expensive beach holiday. If you choose the right destination and the right accommodation, you could be staying just yards from the sea and sand, in comfortable accommodation.

It's this combination of comfort and location and price that makes a luxury static caravan the perfect holiday for many families. Today's caravans are modern and fully-fitted, with mains drainage, hot and cold water, fitted bathrooms and kitchens and gas heating. They make the perfect base for a lazy beach holiday for all the best reasons:

Location

Luxury static caravans are usually situated on a dedicated park. These parks can be limited to a few caravans, or they can be larger sites, with full shopping and entertainment facilities. The one thing they have in common is access to the beach. Parks are usually set only a few hundred yards from the sand and often have private access to the beach, away from the general parking areas that are open to the public. This means that you have 24 hour access to the beach, and your holiday home is just a short walk away.

Cost

A static caravan holiday is an affordable way to take your family on holiday. Costing much less than a holiday cottage and providing more space, privacy and luxury than a hotel room of the same price, a caravan lets you have flexibility and independence without having to pay a fortune. If your children are under school age, try taking your trip outside the school holidays when the beach is quieter, and the cost of renting a caravan is less.

Comfort

There's no point saving money on your accommodation if it's badly fitted and uncomfortable. For a really memorable family holiday, you need to find somewhere to stay that's within your budget, but will give you the space and comfort you and your family need. A large static caravan fulfils all these requirements. It is properly floored and carpeted, has plenty of storage, a fitted bathroom and kitchen and comfortable beds and seating areas. Most caravan companies provide bed linen and towels, so your caravan is ready to use the moment you walk in.

If it's an affordable beach holiday you're after, explore the UK's best beaches from the comfort of a static caravan.

The Popularity Of Static Caravan Holidays

By Sherwood Caravans

Static caravan holidays are extremely popular, with people returning year after year. If you're considering taking a static caravan holiday, here are some reasons why their popularity continues to rise:

Cost

Whether you're thinking of renting a static caravan for a week or buying one for family weekends away and holidays, the cost is a significant factor. For holiday makers, a week or a fortnight's stay in a static caravan is considerably cheaper than staying in a hotel or a holiday cottage, whilst for buyers, a static caravan can be affordable where other property simply isn't.

Location

If you're after a beach holiday, a static caravan is usually in the ideal location. Set on parks near the beach, you're often just a few hundred yards from the sand and sea, which means you can avoid all the usual hassles that come with going to the beach - finding parking, packing picnics and carrying armfuls of equipment onto the sand. Instead, a static caravan means you can walk to the beach whenever you want to, returning to your caravan for drinks, food or a shower within a couple of minutes.

Space

People who see inside a static caravan for the first time are often surprised by how spacious they are. With larger caravans up to 35ft long by 12ft wide, there is plenty of room for a generous seating area, fitted kitchen, bathroom, bedrooms and storage. This makes them ideal family accommodation and, even in bad weather, a family can exist happily without feeling that they're living on top of each other. In addition, most caravans are set in their own "plot" which gives residents areas of grass and paving so that they can sit outside or play games.

Facilities

Most static caravans used by holiday makers are set on caravan or holiday parks. This not only means that you are holidaying in a community, but it offers a range of facilities to make your holiday more enjoyable. These include an on-site mini-market, children's play area, café or restaurant, fast food takeaway and bars. Larger sites may also have a pavilion or club house where live entertainment is arranged.

The combination of location, cost, comfort and convenience is what makes static caravan holidays so popular in a wide range of coastal resorts.
