Arizona Charter Bus Rental Tips

By Night Life Limo Bus

An Arizona charter bus is a practical way to move a large group around. Those onboard the charter bus will be able to relax, see the sights, and converse with one another or they can spend their time alone, reading a book, watching movies, or even sleeping. If you've got to get a large group from point A to point B, and you want to do so economically and comfortably, you should consider reserving an Arizona charter bus.

Here are some tips that can help when you're looking to rent an Arizona charter bus for your group's travel.

Safety First

Once you start searching for Arizona charter bus companies, you'll see that there are many to choose from. One way to help narrow down your choices is to dig a bit deeper into the charter bus company's driving history. Even though traveling by bus is safer than flying or driving, that doesn't mean all charter bus companies put safety first. Before making a reservation with an Arizona charter bus company, ask how often the company maintains its fleet and whether maintenance is handled by the charter bus company directly or whether it's contracted out.

You can always Google the Arizona charter bus company history. Search for information about past accidents, driver citations, and safety violations. The Department of Transportation has strict guidelines governing the number of hours bus drivers can operate a bus without a break, about drug testing and physical examination schedules, about keeping logs and other important safety issues. It's fully within your right to ask about these types of issues.

Plan ahead

The sooner you have the details of your trip coordinated, the better. It's always a good idea to reserve an Arizona charter bus as far in advance as possible. Knowing the travel dates, destinations, and the number of people traveling will help ensure you end up with a charter bus that meets your group's needs.

Review the fleet

As you contact each Arizona charter bus rental agency, ask what types of busses are available. In addition to the deluxe motor coach type, you might be able to choose a double decker bus, a mini bus, an executive coach or Arizona limousine style bus, a van, and possibly even a bus with sleeping compartments!

Scrutinize the quotation

Arizona charter bus companies typically charge either by the hour or by the mile. Make sure you understand which you're being quoted so there won't be any surprises later on. It's also a good idea to ask whether or not the price includes tolls or other trip-related expenses. You definitely want to also know if the bus driver's gratuity is included in the quote. On average, a bus driver's gratuity should be about 10% of the bill and that extra money becomes their incentive to provide an enjoyable ride.

Ask about back-up transportation

Hopefully it won't be an issue, but you definitely want to find out what will happen to your group should the Arizona charter bus you reserve experience mechanical trouble during your trip.

How An Arizona Charter Bus Compares With Other Transportation Options

By Night Life Limo Bus

What are your options when you need to transport a big group? You can arrange an Arizona charter bus. You can check into reserving an Arizona limo. For longer journeys, you can check out the train and airplane schedules. If you're only going local, you can even check out public busses or taxis. So let's see how each of these options compares with an Arizona party or Arizona charter bus rental.

Like an Arizona charter bus, an Arizona limousine is going to give you a smooth, comfortable ride. Someone else will be driving so you and your guests will be able to relax and enjoy the evening. There will be a few amenities on board and that's going to be nice. All eyes will be on you and your guests when you arrive at your destination and then again when you leave. But think about this. The more people you want to bring along, the more it's going to cost because that Arizona limo is going to have to stretch and stretch and stretch to accommodate your growing party. At some point, the costs might become too high to pursue this option.

If your ultimate destination is several hours or more away, you'll have to research other types of transportation. A plane will get your group to your destination in record time, there's no question about that. But what happens when you arrive at the airport? Everybody is going to need some way to get to the hotel or wherever it is that they'll be unpacking their bags. That's going to be an extra expense.

Arizona Charter Bus Rental Tips

There's going to be some degree of inflexibility as your group's arrival and departure times will need to coincide with that of the plane schedule. Even if you opt to take the train, you'll have these same issues, plus the train will take longer to arrive, especially after factoring in all the stops it's going to make along the way. And forget about comfort. Unless you all can afford first class or private sleeping berths, you'll be settling for a cramped, upright position for the duration. An Arizona charter bus will make just one stop and that's going to be at your final destination. And there will be plenty of room to move about.

So what if you're only planning a night around town, say to celebrate a birthday, or a bachelor or bachelorette party? The public busses can probably get you very near to where you want to be, but public transportation at night can be scary. And the busses will run less frequently the later it gets. At some point, they'll stop running entirely. What's going to happen if you're not ready to stop when the busses are?

Depending on where you live, a taxi may be an option. But the larger your group, the more taxis you'll all need. There's little chance you'll all arrive at your destination at the same time and it won't nearly be as much fun as riding together on an Arizona charter bus!

So, after considering all the options, an Arizona charter bus just might make the most sense!
