Baseball Theme Scores Home Run For Birthday Party Planning

By John H. Rogers

If you are planning a birthday party for your little baseball fan, a party theme surrounding the great American pastime may be just the ticket. In order to plan the perfect event, there are several options to consider. Where and when will the birthday party be held? How many invitations will be sent? What type of food and activities will be available to guests? If you live near a party supply store, this will be an excellent way to find birthday party decorations and invitations. Otherwise, the world wide web provides a literal shopping mall at your fingertips.

In selecting a location for the baseball-themed birthday party, consider a local stadium, ballpark or softball field where the children can enjoy participating in a quick game. If this is the selected location, it's a good idea to take the upcoming weather into consideration. Unless you want the big game to be rained out, select a day with predicted sunshine. A local batting cage may also be a fun idea for a birthday party surrounded by the theme of baseball.

No birthday party is complete without the proper decorations. With a baseball theme, the party may include a round cake in the design of a baseball or a sheet cake created to look like a playing field. As for the table decorations, themed plates, cups and napkins will be a big hit. Now that the decorations are chosen, the obvious food for a baseball birthday party would be hot dogs. If the party is held outdoors, grilling would be ideal.

If you have the financial resources to do so, you may consider hiring a professional coach or athlete to appear at the birthday party. An appearance fee will likely be required and will be determined based on the popularity of the celebrity, their time spent, travel distance and other factors. In addition to being a memorable guest of the birthday party, the presence of a professional athlete or coach will also provide plenty of photo opportunities.

When all of the plans are confirmed, the invitations should be mailed. Birthday party invitations should indicate several very specific factors, including the date, time and place of the event. If planning a baseball theme, perhaps the invitation image would convey the same. If the majority of guests are enrolled in school, the best time to hold the party would likely be on a Saturday. If you are concerned about having enough food and refreshments to go around, it may be a good idea to request that every prospective guest RSVP with their plans.

Looking for Birthday Party Ideas? Here are some great ideas.

Having a memorable birthday party means coming up with some great birthday party ideas. If you are having a birthday party for your child or anyone who is a child at heart, you will want to plan it to be fun and exciting! Birthday parties are a great excuse to meet friends and family and enjoy a day of laughter and smiles. Having some basic plans for the day, will make in not only go smoothly, but it will allow the planner time to enjoy themselves as well.

Think all you need to do is buy a few presents and a cake and call it a day? Doing some extra planning makes it fun and enjoyable for everyone. For instance, take a few minutes at the nearest craft store or maybe party supply store and look at all the birthday party supplies available. You will definitely find things like birthday party invitations and decorations, but you will also find birthday party games and even birthday party theme ideas! Especially if you are planning a kids birthday party, you will want to pick a theme. Themes can range from children's characters like Elmo and Disney characters to simple things like horses or cars. Find something that fits the child's tastes and interests well. You can usually find table clothes, invitations, balloons, birthday party favors, and more to match the theme you have chosen.

Of course, you can always make the birthday party a surprise! This element works well on just about anyone. Try doing this with an adult who thinks their birthday has gone unnoticed. Or, a child who thinks they are just getting a few toys and pizza! What a memory that will be! Don't want a surprise? Try planning the birthday party as a nice dinner out with just the closest of friends. Find out what their favorite restaurant is or favorite theme park. Make it a picnic or a day at the beach.

Birthday's aren't just about getting a few gifts. They are about family and friends celebrating the day a person special to them was born. They are about celebrating the life that person leads and showing affections and respect. Make it special to that person. While you may enjoy a big party with lots of people, others would rather a quiet night at home with a few close friends. Great food, great friends and family, and a day planned in their honor will make any person feel special and feel important. This is what we hope to gain in a birthday party, right?
