Choosing An Accommodation For Your Next Kauai Vacation

By Sheryl Walters

If you have chosen Kauai as your desired Hawaii vacation destination, you are way ahead of the game. Now you must decide between a condo, home or hotel room. This can be confusing without properly understanding the amenities each type of property has to offer.

First, let's consider Kauai Condos. Here you will find more space than traditionally available than hotels, which can be important if you are a family traveling or if you simply value your privacy. These condos often have one or more bedrooms, living rooms, and full kitchens. With this type of arrangement you have more flexibility than afforded you with a hotel room, giving you the opportunity to prepare your own meals if you wish or simply relax in comfort.

Kauai Vacation Home Rentals are even bigger than condos, offering more space to spread out. This can also be an important advantage for traveling families who may find themselves cramped in hotels or even in condos. Many such home rentals also offer washer and dryer facilities, an important consideration for extended vacationers who do not wish to use Laundromat or dry cleaner facilities.

Honeymooners or couples traveling to the island for a romantic getaway will delight in the complete and utter privacy made available through a vacation home rental. Enjoy a completely private dinner by candlelight while watching the reflection of moonlight on the ocean, all from the privacy of your own oceanfront dining room.

Both of these types of accommodations are generally less expensive than hotels. In fact, many visitors are frequently surprised by the affordability offered by Kauai vacation home rentals. They are also great for families seeking additional privacy. This option is popular with multiple couples who can share rooms in these rentals to further cut expenses, as well as families who choose the island as an exotic backdrop for their next family reunion.

In addition, while many people may be attracted to the daily rates available at hotels and be turned off by mandatory weekly rates for some vacation rentals, it is important to note that this is not always the case. In fact, many properties available through Kauai vacation rentals are available with both very affordable daily rates as well as weekly rates. Not planning to stay an entire week? Book a condo, bungalow or home rental with a daily rate instead and take advantage of the numerous amenities available only through a vacation rental.

Beyond the affordability factor, vacation rentals present travelers with the freedom and comfort of home, all located in an atmosphere that is relaxing, beautiful and perhaps most importantly, private. Whether you're looking for a beachfront villa, private oceanfront luxury home, ocean view resort condo or a quaint Kauai cottage or bungalow, you can take advantage of all the many amenities offered through Kauai vacation rentals.

Business travelers are not immune to the benefits offered through vacation home rentals, either. With the availability to conduct business and conferences in private along with private lanais for entertaining while enjoying sweeping ocean and mountain views, many business travelers feel this provides a perfect blend of amenities and privacy.

Kauai Hotels have more elaborate lobbies, grounds and pools. There are generally shops and restaurants in the hotel and they have daily maid service and a bellman to help with luggage.

One thing to note; however, is that Hotel facilities such as the Spa, golf and restaurants are available to everyone, even if you are not staying there. In addition, many condo and vacation home rentals are also available with similar amenities as hotels, including access to fabulous golf courses and spa services. Through arrangements with property managers you may also be able to schedule regular maid service for your vacation home rental as well, taking the worries and hassles of picking up after yourself while on vacation completely out of your hands. With the wide variety of restaurants available on the island, preparing meals in your vacation rental is truly an option you can either take advantage of, or if you wish you can instead try a delicious new restaurant each day of your stay.

Finally, an advantage many hotels cannot usually offer that is often available with vacation home rental is the availability of private beach access. When staying in a hotel you are at the mercy of public beach access; and while this is certainly fine for many vacationers, others prefer a more intimate and private atmosphere in which to enjoy the fantastic sunsets and ocean views. Kauai vacation home rentals provide this amenity, allowing you to truly relax in comfort and privacy.

The Benefits Of Booking A Kauai Vacation Rental

By Sandy McBride

Choosing An Accommodation For Your Next Kauai Vacation

Are you interested in taking a vacation this year? If you are then you are not alone. Each year, a large number of individuals, couples, and families make the decision to take a vacation. While a vacation is nice, many individuals are sad to find out that theirs was not everything they wanted it to be. To prevent yourself from becoming one of those individuals, you are encouraged to consider vacationing in an area that is considered on the world's most popular vacation destinations. That destination is the Hawaiian island of Kauai.

When on a vacation, many make the decision to stay at a hotel or resort. While there are a number of benefits to spending your nights at a well-known hotel or resort, it is not your only option. If you are looking to make the most out of your vacation, you will want to examine Kauai vacation rentals. You will find that, when compared to traditional hotels or resorts, they literally have an unlimited number of benefits.

Perhaps, the greatest benefit of choosing a vacation rental is that you have a large number of choices. In the Kauai area, vacation rentals come in the form of homes, condominiums, and beach front villas. This means that whatever you are looking for, you can most likely find it. If you are looking for privacy, you may want to examine home rentals. If you are looking for convenience, a condominium rental may be your best bet. And, if you want to spend your vacation on the beach, a beach front villa may be just what you are looking for.

In addition to your wide variety of different choices, you may also enjoy booking a stay at one of the many Kauai vacation rentals due to the privacy. With almost all Kauai vacation rentals, with the exception of some condominiums, you are given a private space. This private space often means limited interaction with locals and other vacationers. If you are interested in taking a vacation alone or with your romantic partner, you may find this privacy to be the greatest benefit of all.

While one may assume that the costs of most Kauai vacation rentals are expensive, they are not always. Instead of being labeled as expensive, most are labeled as reasonable. When you consider everything that you can get out of a vacation rental, you will often find that the price is well worth it. As previously mentioned, Kauai vacation rentals not only, usually, offer you an amazing view, but privacy as well. For many, that alone, is worth the cost of a vacation rental.

Despite the fact that the cost of most Kauai vacation rentals are considered fair and reasonable, you may still find yourself wishing to save money on your next vacation. If so, you may want to examine when you plan on taking your vacation. In Kauai, most real estate agents consider their regular season to be between January 7th and December 15th. The dates in between are often considered the holiday season. As with most other popular vacation destinations, you may find that the cost of vacationing during the regular season is significantly lower than the holiday season.

If a Kauai vacation rental peaks yours or your family's interest, you are encouraged to learn more. Kauai vacation rentals are available through most real estate agents, including Remax Kauai. Since the popularity of vacation rentals is rapidly increasing, you are encouraged to act fast. This will ensure that you are able to acquire the rental of your dreams. For more information, you are urged to speak to an agent today.
