Choosing The Right Chocolate Gift Basket

By Stephanie Foster

Chocolate gift baskets make a great gift for just about any occasion. They're personal or professional, depending on the basket selected.

For a close friend, of course, you want to pick something that has some of his or her favorite varieties of chocolate. Maybe they like Ghiradelli. Maybe any milk chocolate at all will do. Or maybe a gift basket filled with the most unique, decadent chocolates you can imagine will be the perfect gift.

You'll also want to consider the occasion. For a birthday present for a sports fan, there are chocolate gift baskets with a sports theme. Similarly, there are baskets with golf themes, fishing themes, spring themes and many more. You might choose a basket of chocolate covered pretzels.

For a wedding anniversary, there are baskets with a more romantic theme. This is a great time to choose the most decadent variety you can find.

A chocolate gift basket is also great to celebrate milestones, such as graduations or special accomplishments. You can find them with appropriate themes in most cases.

For a professional gift basket, you have to consider exactly who you are giving it to. Is the gift basket for an individual, a team or the whole office?

In any of these cases, you want to keep things very professional, but if the chocolate is to be shared among many people you need to consider the number of people as well as how easily the components will break up. You will also want a good variety to suit a variety of tastes.

If you give a lot of professional gifts, you will probably quickly develop a few favorites that suit your needs best. A great way to ensure that the basket is memorable is to add something from your business to it. Have the basket sent to your office so that you have the opportunity to customize it, then deliver it yourself. If you are sending it to someone far away, this is obviously more difficult, as chocolate needs special packaging to keep it from melting, but this is perfect for your local clients. Some companies may be able to add items at your request, so ask when you order.

Yes, chocolate can get expensive quickly. But the wonderful thing about it is that just about everyone loves it, it is easily shared, and it doesn't add to the clutter of most people's homes. You will rarely get a worse complaint than that you're ruining someone's diet when you give them chocolate.

The Perfect Gift Basket

By George Meszaros

Gift baskets are very popular. A professionally done gift basket is a work of art. It is good to look at, and great to give, and wonderful to receive. A gift basket is like a statue, a piece of art. It pleases the eyes. Our eyes wonder about sinking in the many amazing gifts inside.

A gift basket is a gift in itself, but it is, of course a collection of gifts. The variety found within gift baskets is what makes the concept so thrilling. When one receives a gift basket, she displays in a prominent place. If the basket is received in a home, it usually takes the place of an elegant centerpiece on the dining table or the kitchen counter. If the basket is received in a place of business, it is displayed in someone's office or in a highly visible area.

Gift baskets are great conversation pieces. It is difficult to avoid conversation when passing by someone's gift basket. Even men feel more comfortable sparking up a conversation about a gift basket than flowers, especially if they walk by a food gift basket.

You can purchase gift baskets with anything from gourmet food, chocolate, or spa products. You can buy a basket that is appropriate for a baby shower, a birthday, or to simply thank a business client.

It is important to give the appropriate gift basket. For example, you should never send wine gift baskets to clients, or prospective clients. If you are trying to impress a potential client, you can't go wrong with a gourmet basket. The more you know about your client, the better chance you have of getting the right basket. Try to find out a little about your client before you invest the money in buying a gift basket. If you met a client and she told you about a recent spa experience, a spa gift basket would be the perfect gift for her. If you have a client that loves chocolate, get them a gourmet chocolate basket.

When it comes to gift baskets you can be as creative or as standard as you want. You can be safe or adventurous. It is up to you, you have many choices. There are a lot of companies who offer gift baskets, so be sure to look for price and quality. You can find gift baskets department stores, but the selection is usually limited compared to a gift basket specialist. You can also order them from online companies where you can usually find good quality baskets at a discount price.

Just remember that you don't have to spend a fortune to find a great gift basket if you do your research. A gift basket doesn't have to be expensive to be a great gift.
