Choosing the right car

By Jason Hulott

Choosing the right car by Jason Hulott

We all dream about the car we'd like, Maybe we see one in the street and think "that's the one for me" then, being fickle, will see another a little further along the street and say "No, that's the car I want!".

Don't worry, this is quite normal, very few people know exactly what they want.

Here, we give you some considerations on choosing the right car for you so you don't end up saddled with a car that, frankly, disappoints you! Remember that you are likely to spend a lot of your time sitting in it and the model you choose will say a lot about you to other people.

What will be your new car's main purpose?

Your lifestyle and what your new car will be used for is the very first thing you need to think about.

Basically, your dream car may be TT Roadster (a two-seater) but if the car is to be used to drop the kids off to school, then it really won't be suitable!

Consider this

- Is the car going to be used for family trips?
- commuting to work in? (then choose a diesel to get the most from your fuel)
- will it be a sporty second car for week-ends?
- Does it need to be used for off-roading?
- Will it be needed for business?
- Are you married or single? Do you have children? etc etc

This will then help you build a picture in mind of the car that is realistically right for you

The costs

Another important consideration is running costs:

- What insurance group is the car? The higher the group, the more your insurance premium will be
- If your car is going to do a lot of mileage (over 12,000 miles a year), then think about choosing a car with a diesel engine - these are better on fuel consumption

- More expensive cars will have higher servicing and maintenance bills

Comfort

Depending on what purpose your car is used for, comfort is a consideration.

For commuting or high mileage vehicles, the car should be of the optimum comfort and, ideally, have air conditioning.

If it is a fun car, say a sporty number for weekends, then be prepared that the ride will be slightly harder (but a lot of fun!)

Featured Merchant

By now you should have a good idea of the type of car you want and what it needs to be like to suit your circumstances!

Now, think about how much you can comfortably afford and start doing your research!

The internet is a good place to start looking, you can research prices, specifications and, if you are after a new car, for a bit of fun, you can even visit a manufacturers site and build a car to your own specifications!

Also, scour the motor section of your local newspaper to see what finance deals and offers are on at local dealerships. You could pick up a good deal!

How To Know When Not To Buy A Used Car!

By "Dr. Drew Henry"

If you are looking to save money by buying a used car, it can be a very viable tactic. However, even though you are on a tight budget, buying a used car should not be immediately decided upon and should take a lot of consideration. Why? This is to avoid throwing your hard earned money away.

Below are some pointers that may help you decide when to buy or not to buy a used car:

1. You should consider your budget.

If the reason why you choose to purchase a used car is because of your budget, then it should be the same reason why you should be careful and meticulous in choosing a used car. Thus, if the car needs a lot of maintenance, repairs, and other modifications, it is best not to buy that used car (or else you lose the benefits of buying a used car).

2. You should be wary of buying used cars from owners that do not have complete and pertinent documents.

This could mean a lot of negative things and you are the only one who will be at the losing end. Documents are crucial especially if the car is second hand. It is the only solid guarantee that you can get hold of when buying used cars. If this is the case, then, you might as well not pursue the deal.

3. If the you are not comfortable after test-driving the car, then it is best not to buy it.

There are instances wherein some people tend to opt for used cars because of the model of the car being sold. It is their dream car and there is no other way they can purchase them but to buy them second hand. However, if you are not comfortable with the car after test-driving it, then it would be better not to pursue the deal, even if it means the world to you to have that car.

The bottom line is that buying used cars should never be your sole alternative if you cannot afford to buy new ones. This means that you should value the process of choosing a used car like what you would do when buying a new car. In the end, it is your money that will be put to risk. Thus, it is extremely important to consider all the factors in order to have the best buy ever. Happy hunting!
