Cowboy Central Rewards NRHA Exhibitors

NRHA corporate sponsor, Cowboy Central, is recognizing NRHA exhibitors who participate during the 2004 show season by offering chances for prizes just for showing in affiliate ancillary classes.

Each time an NRHA member shows in an ancillary class at an affiliate show, the exhibitor's name is automatically entered into a drawing. At the end of the qualifying period, three names will be drawn from each of the seven regions. The first name drawn will win a custom-made Cowboy Central Saddle valued at more than $3,500. The second and third names drawn will receive tack packages valued at more than $500 and $300, respectively.

"We are proud and excited that Cowboy Central takes their commitment to our membership and organization to the level that they recognize not only our champions, but also the NRHA exhibitors across the board," commented Dan Wall, NRHA Executive Director.

Cowboy Central's partnership began shortly after the 2003 NRHA Futurity & Championship Show. McDonald and her staff hit the ground running as an NRHA corporate sponsor, setting their sights on the 2004 NRHA Derby as the first of several shows where their specially designed saddles will be awarded for championship titles, including the European Championship and the 2004 Cowboy Central Saddle Series. All told, Cowboy Central will award more than 60 saddles in 2004.

The Cowboy Central Exhibitor Rewards program—qualifying period is January 1 through September 6, 2004 for North American affiliate shows and January 1 through May 31, 2004 for European affiliate

Reminic Achieves NRHA Million Dollar Sire Status – March 12, 2004 by National Reining Horse Association

Reminic, a 1978 bay stallion by Doc's Remedy and out of Fillinic, has sired earners of $1,042,003.52 in NRHA competition, becoming the eighth stallion to achieve the NRHA Million Dollar Sire distinction. Bred by Greg Ward of Tulare, California, and owned by the Reminic Partnership (Chuck McAnally and Jim Babcock), Reminic currently stands at the Babcock Ranch in Gainesville, Texas. In 1981, Reminic was the NCHA Futurity high placing stallion and placing fifth overall. His NCHA earnings exceed $81,000. But his most recent accomplishments are through his offspring. Helping their sire earn this milestone were NRHA Open Futurity Champions Boomernic and Von Reminic and NRHA Derby Co-Champion Buenonic Chex. Brett Stone rode Claudia Cattell's Boomernic to the 1992 Open Futurity win, earning the $100,000 Futurity paycheck. Out of Docs Leavem Smoke by Mr Gun Smoke, the 1989 stallion has total earnings of $109,905.90. In 2000, Todd Sommers rode Frank Bolea's Von Reminic to the NRHA Open Futurity championship. Von Reminic's NRHA Lifetime Earnings exceed $180,000. Out of Von Freckles by Colonel Freckles, he earned the first NRHA Futurity $150,000 winner's paycheck. Sommers also rode Enzo Gola's Buenonic Chex to the 1998 NRHA Derby Co-Champion title. Out of Sample Chex by Bueno Chex, the 1994 stallion has more than $90,000 in NRHA earnings. Other money earning NRHA offspring include Boogernic ($42,240.73), A Genuine Remedy ($40,108.99), Diablonic ($42,564.94), Mister Montana Nic ($53,176.91).

Reminic's offspring have excelled in other disciplines as well. His offspring have earned in excess of $672,000 in National Cutting Horse Association (NCHA) sanctioned events and Reminic offspring account for more than $800,000 in National Reined Cow Horse Association (NRCHA) earnings and include two NRCHA Snaffle Bit Champions. In AQHA events his 904 registered foals have earned almost 3500 points.

The National Reining Horse Association is pleased to announce Reminic's latest achievement: NRHA Million Dollar Sire.
