Creep Towering

By Jim Thio

I strongly prefer faq to be in HTML, so people can move around the internal navigation easily.

However, that is not required.

Creep Towering

In some maps, you can quickly build tower to kill the best creep. In fact, some creeps are so close together you can creep them all with 3-4 towers.

Your hero will gain huge experience. I usually follow this with a safe strategy like mass trolls.

Opening Build Altar and burrow. Build a mill. Build a tower. Build a tower close to the creep.

Tower creep the enemies while towers are being built. For example, 1 tower can kill the smaller creep. More towers for more creeps.

Start building your trolls.

When you kill creeps you often get items that'll help in your fight.

The key here is when you fight your enemies the first time, quickly kill those items. You want to win in your first battle. An item is an added surprise that your enemies do not take into account. Usually, such surprises will lead him to more loss.

Surprise is important. If he knows you'll win, he'll run away. It's because he doesn't know he keeps fighting a losing battle.

If you have earthquake, you can always follow up their loss with earthquake. Earthquake the farms. They are the easiest to destroy. You can destroy the rest later.

Tips and Tricks

Creep Towering

In some map, you need to go this quickly. Also check out if the enemies do that first.

This strategy works better in some maps than on others. Please check my replays to ensure of it.

Quick Starfall

By Jim Thio

In map legend, do a late conservative build.

Wait till you have 10 extra lumber, and build moon well, ancient of war, and then altar.

Build priestess of the moon.

Put the priestess of the moon in the ramp.

Now, call the creeps.

Kill the creeps.

Quickly move to the center.

If there are already enemy towers there destroy it.

One tricky thing you can do is to attack the enemies. Then after the center creep is about to die.

Creep Towering

Quickly attack the creep.

Chance is you'll be the one getting experience.

After attacking press hide quickly. That way the creep will always attack the enemy.

Anyway, finish off the center creep.

Rally point all archers to the fountain. Not the hero.

Call off the 2 big creeps using the priestess.

The priestess should go back to the fountain, ensure that she's the front most of the army, and then just hold.

Do something else. Chance is the big ogre creeps will die.

After you kill both of them, you can use star fall.

Unless he has the counter, star fall is pretty much invincible.

Now, don't forget to go to

<http://legendarygamesforum.com>

to talk about this strategy.

Sometimes a human player will build an early expand. If the towers are already up, wait for starfall.

If not, just attack. Scout towers have large armor. They're a piece of cake for your archers.

After killing all the peasants go back. Chance is he'll do something stupid like building a new tower.

Just attack again.

In the attached preview, we see that the human player quickly give up after seeing me attacking again.

One thing he could have done is using militia. He should have poured militia from neighboring base to his expansion.

Always build a lot of footmen if you expand.

See you latter.
