Cruise Packages have Something for Everyone! by Lori Wilkerson

The traditional view of cruises has been that they're for couples who are getting away for romance and adventure. More recently people have also begun thinking about cruises as a way for singles to meet each other and have a great time as well. But even that is a limited view of cruising. The reality is that there are cruise packages available today for everybody - if you like to travel and are looking for a unique vacation opportunity, a cruise offers more diversity and choice than any other kind vacation out there!

Cruise Packages Cater to Every Group and Need

There are cruise packages for couples, singles, groups of friends and families, and each of these take into consideration the specific needs and interests of these groups. This is what makes a cruise vacation so special - the attention to detail and specialized service. Most vacation packages simply can't provide this kind of service.

Family cruises can be amazing bargains when you're traveling with your children because the cruise ship staff takes care of your children's entertainment needs from the moment they step aboard ship. Kid-rated movies, live kid-friendly theaters, pizza parlors, organized games and activities and free baby sitting for the younger ones mean you'll have the opportunity to have some couples time while your kids have a blast! The best part is the all-inclusive price - they can play, watch, swim and eat to their hearts' content! How many hotels give you that?

Worried that teens will be bored? Not a problem! Cruise packages with families in mind have age-specific activities planned that range from crafts for the younger set to karaoke and coffee houses for the teens, so you're practically guaranteed to find something for every age group.

Honeymoon cruises cater to your desire for romance and pampering. Little extras like champagne and chocolates are typically included in the price of your cruise, and discounts are usually offered for luxury accommodations onshore when you get to your port of call if you are staying there a few days. You can also upgrade for a small fee and get extras that really stand out, such as chocolate covered strawberries and canapés in your room, breakfast in bed and matching robes to take home with you.

Let the cruise ship know ahead of time that you're on your honeymoon and you'll almost always receive some free gifts as well, and a special invitation to dine at the Captain's table one evening. It's thoughtful touches like this that make a honeymoon cruise such a popular choice.

Cruise ship staff members are some of the most highly trained in the world, and excel at being both unobtrusive and ever-present to cater to your needs, making your honeymoon magical in every way. For a romantic vacation getaway, a honeymoon cruise can't be beat. Fine dining, spas, world class entertainment, sumptuous rooms and moonlit nights with sea breezes all combine to make these romantic cruise packages a honeymoon vacation you'll never forget.

Girlfriends' Getaway Cruises are the newest alternative to Girls Night Out. Hey, we all have those days when we throw up our hands and say, "I can't take it anymore!" don't we? Why not take a two or three day discount cruise for the weekend? It's so much nicer than the yearly trip to the outlet malls! Pack up your bathing suits and get ready to relax!

A three-day vacation with the girls can be all about you - spas, saunas, drinks on the deck while reading a great paperback. Nights of relaxing and chatting or seeing a great show; or maybe playing the slots in the casino. It's three days of just the girls, and when you go home you'll be refreshed, relaxed and full of great memories!

You can get a great discount on three day cruises that will bring in the weekend at a lower cost than driving to those outlets, renting a hotel room and buying all of your meals in restaurants - and the food will be better, too. No driving around looking for the nearest movie theater, no looking for something to do - it's all right there on board ship.

Singles Cruises are usually booked as groups of singles onboard cruise ships that may have other groups as well, but because the singles group organizer is buying a block of rooms to keep the singles all together you can get a great discount on this kind of vacation. If you're looking to meet and mingle with other singles, these cruise packages offer activities, dining and dancing with other singles onboard.

These have become increasingly popular and are also a great way to enjoy great vacation destinations - why not go snorkeling off Nassau or shopping in the Bahamas and meet some great eligible singles, too? Today's single professionals don't want to wait until they find someone special to enjoy the finer things in life, and a singles cruise means they can enjoy an amazing vacation and find someone special at the same time!

Cruise Packages to Fit Your Vacation Schedule

Cruise packages come in several different sizes to fit your budget and your time constraints. You can even start with a day cruise if you'd like to try out your "sea legs" and see what cruises are all about. But be warned - once you've tried a day cruise, you'll be ready to book the next step up, and you'll be looking at four day, seven day or longer cruises!

Cruise Packages have Something for Everyone!

If you're looking for a great getaway for a long weekend, check into the three- and four-day cruise packages that are available; you can find savings of up to 50% on these if you book in advance and are flexible on which port you leave from.

For a longer vacation, there are cruise packages of a variety of lengths, with the most common lengths being seven day, eleven day, and then two and three week cruises. For seriously intense vacations, you can even book a discount cruise that's a month or two months long (travel around the world on a cruise ship, anyone?). The fabulous thing about a really long cruise is that the discount is often substantial - an empty cabin is expensive for a cruise ship, so they'll offer it a significant discount rather than have it sit empty for two months, so be sure to check out all possibilities - you may be surprised by what you can afford!
