Devas are related to angels there are two distinct meanings of Devas In Hinduism and Buddhism are a lot more complex then those of the Western world. In Sanskrit Deva means shining one.

Madame Helena P. Blavatsky, co-founder of the Theosophical Society, introduced to the West her own conception of devas. She saw them as a type of angel. She thought they came from from previous planetary periods. They came to earth before the elementals. They would stay dormant until earth's people evolved to a certain spiritual stage and then they would help man evolve.

Certain people seemed to evolved to that point now. They have partnered with the people at Findhorn in Scotland and Perelandra, in Washington,DC.This partnership was discovered in the produce of Findhorn in Scotland and Perelandra in Washington, DC.

Being a gardner myself these places have always fascinated me.

I have read extensively about the relationship between the Devas and humans in these places. It seems that the Devas are assigned to every living thing including the soil. In the above places they have educated humans on planting, soil ammendments, fertilization, and taking care of the plants there. They grew enormous vegetation in poor soil and climate. plant care.

I personally have called on the Devas of my little piece of land and I have learned a great deal about growing things. The first year I was here I planted trees that died and in certain parts of my yard I planted and things grew well. I was puzzled but I called on the Divas and they told me that the man who lived here before filled with compost that had a lot of poisons in them. So I dug out certian parts of the yard added compost that I made and sure enough things grew. I have not had the results they had at Findhorn but I have not spent the time talking to the Devas they did there either. I plan to start to spend more time in my yard and with the Devas.
The Devas in my yard were quite astonished that the man who lived here before was so destructive of nature but they have been perfectly willing to work with me to improve the yard and to grow things. Devas have the knowledge of all plants and the soil and any other information you might want to know about the earth. They control all necessary energies for growth and health for all living things.

Another thing I have learned from the Devas in my yard is how to use the herbs I grow there to heal. I also have learned about Flower Essences and their healing properties. As long as I am willing to spend the time and meditate on the Devas they are willing to teach me and their knowledge is unending.

What Are Angels? by Judi Singleton

"We not only live among men, but there are airy hosts, blessed spectators, sympathetic lookers-on, that see and know and appreciate our thoughts and feelings and acts."

– Henry Ward Beecher

I have read many articles on angels and there are as many conflicting beliefs about them as there are religions and people. I don't know anymore than you do about angels only that contacting them for their help really works. We are never alone. I have never seen an angel that I know of but I have called them in the dark night of my soul and miracles have happened in my life. The Bible tells us that angels were created when we were. The difference seems to be that angels unlike us humans always are in contact with the Higher Power and they therefore embody perfect faith, unconditional love, and grace. They have seen Higher Power and know him personally. Do they evolve as we do? We are told in all spiritual literature that they are a messenger from the Higher Power. They are allowed if we ask to impart a message directly from God to us. Now why do we need a messenger? I do not have the answers to this but the Bible tells us that none of those who contacted Higher Power could look upon him. So perhaps the angels are there so we can see Higher Power through their eyes.

Angels are a very popular subject these days. We are in a time of change on this earth plane. Many things are happening that make us all afraid I think that is why the angels have made themselves known to more people. Perhaps people are calling on them more they have always been there but would not intercede without invitation. This would interfer with our free will.

I personally keep a journal and often write to my angels. I write my angels about all of my life asking for guidance about sometimes the littlest things. I always receive an answer when I am patient and believe that I will. It takes wanting to have your angels help above all things. It takes faith that they are there and you can contact them. Then it takes faith to act on the guidance one receives. This also takes courage. But you can ask your angel for all the faith, unconditional love, guidance that you need because they are the experts in these attributes that come from the Higher Power. Invite your angels into your life today. Try out having them help you and see miracles begin to appear in your life. I find that when I feel the most hopeless I will then just call out loud to the angels to come and help and they never fail me. Perhaps I finally get enough emotion going to have things happen.

Whatever and who ever angels are they are here to aid us. I know this in my heart. I have talked to hundreds of people who have angel encounters. They have seen their guardian angels, they have given them strength, guidance, healing, They came in times of emergency to the aid of these people. I personally have never seen my angel but The Bible tells me that they come unaware in human form many times. I have an unshakable knowing that angels exist and they will help if you call.
