Chapter IV. Development of a society

"... There is no people with such heavy historical burden and with such spiritual power as ours; anybody can not judge a martyr who temporarily has fallen to a cross; but have gained gift to itself – invisibly reviving in visible dying ..."

Lev Tolstoy

"Super ego" has been generated by evolution as the barrier for chaotic expansion and self-destruction. "Super ego" has taken the functions establishing principles of "narrow specialisation" and "adaptability-breeding" which correspond to principles in biosphere. These principles are described in the second part of work. However "Unconscious" during all history of mankind by the aspiration to expansion periodically comes out from the "Super ego" control making wars, revolutions or great discovering. It develops mankind. And evolution has fixed dominance of the different mental function not only inside each person, but also in character of various societies.

How it has turned out? Religions of the East accented attention to the Supreme deity and determined the world as illusion and unconscious aspirations of the person as illusion, as the illusory obstacles which are not giving achievements of the God Absolute. Leaving of the real world and concentration on the supreme world during many centuries has created the rigid associative structures of "Super ego" of east societies. The person of the East perceives situations entirely and determines the attitude to a situation by a principle "it is pleasant or not pleasant" (the feel function). For the East the past, the legend and tradition is more important than the present or the future. Having concentrated on "Super ego" the East has lost abilities to creativity (creativity or creation of new associative structures is inherent for "Unconscious").

In the West other history. Judaism and Christianity in the greater degree focused attention of the person to the daily life. Concentration of the West society on the present, occurrence of unacceptability by this society of discrepancy between requirements of religion traditions and the current situation have resulted into Renaissance. "Super ego" of the West was formed under influence of religion too, but with arrival of Protestantism and with development of a science religious associative structures have started to collapse. "Super ego" which serves to individualism is developed now on that place. The person of the West perceives the world through logic and sensing experience supporting logic (the cogitating function and the function of sensing). In the West to survive is necessary to be "here and now ". What occurs with "Unconscious"? The West focused to "Me" has destroyed religiousness of "Super ego" and receives spontaneous expansion of "Unconscious", more exactly its part which contains under the action of "Super ego» extrusion of complexes. It results in elimination of the constraining principles limiting sexual needs and gluttonies needs. Is advertised the sexual revolution with absolute freedom down to distortions and is advertised the high consumption of all kinds of products. The consumer society and the competition society has created a situation similar to an epoch "struggle of all against all" in more refined and liberal democratic kind but not excluding mass victims. Victims are people with prevailing functions distinct from the cogitating function and the function of sensing. They are not useful for such society and by millions are thrown out from lives that we now notice in Russia. The contrast of prevailing functions results to misunderstanding between western and east civilisations. It can result in a destroying of World.

The phenomenon of Russia consists in following. Being between the East and the West of thousand years she has received incredibly rich associative structures of "Super ego" (the Orthodoxy, the Islam, Judaism, the Buddhism) and of "Unconscious" (the creativity perfected through difficulties or the destruction of all, depending on a situation). These "riches" turn around for us as the great trouble and the great happiness. Trouble is in past experience, happiness is in the future opportunities. The person of Russia perceives the world depending on a situation through "Super ego" or "Unconscious" (the feel function and the intuitive function) seldom uses consciousness (the cogitating function) because the consciousness is not suitable in conditions of constant uncertainty. It is marked as "a riddle of Russian soul" with a positive or negative shade by all serious researchers of Russia. Such position of the Russia results in equally negative result whether she is the East despotism (authority of "Super ego") or whether she is the West liberalism (authority of "Me").

Why has the evolution created such mad country? Can to constrain expansion of the West how Neanderthal men in the past? The answers would not be, if there was no example in a history. One Person has already made that Evolution demands. He has combined the "Super ego" and the "Unconscious"; the law of wildlife and a lifeless Matter; the Past and the Future; Paradise and the Hell; All in Nothing, Nothing into All. It is the Christ. It is easier to person of Russia to repeat a feat of the Saviour. For this purpose the Russians should realise the "Super ego", religions of the ancestors (Orthodoxy, the Islam, Judaism and the Buddhism). A modern science can already help us in it. Only then we can understand the "Unconscious". Realised the "Super ego" can prevent infringement of mentality at passage of complexes, it is the top layer of the "Unconscious" which are formed millions years. Probably, everyone understands as far as this dangerous undertaking, but if we shall not start the work, Evolution will force us, having created external conditions. And what external conditions can be we already know. The principle of the Matter Uniting waits us at the end of a way. In the Unconscious of Russia is the Soul of all mankind.

First-Time Buyers Need Support

By Alison White

Changes in the threshold for stamp duty failed to stop the inroads made by the tax, a new study by a leading mortgage lender reveals.

Portman Building Society shows that in the following months after the rise in the exemption threshold from April 2005, British homeowners paid almost £60 million more in stamp duty than in the same period before April. Portman Building Society also advises that even though the government raised the threshold to £120,000, the change made minimal impact at a time of rising house prices, considering that the average property stands close to £200,000 and the typical first-time buyer purchase amounts to £145,000.

Matthew Wyles, group development director at Portman Building Society commented that "Stamp duty is no more than a form of advance capital gains tax – paid long before buyers have enjoyed any of the financial benefits achievable from home ownership". First-time buyers should be liberated from this unjust tax.

Newcastle Building Society is hoping to help first-time buyers by launching new mortgage deals aimed specifically at graduates.

Steve Urwin, the marketing manager from Newcastle Building Society advises they understand the issues first-time buyers face so they launched the 100 per cent mortgage and the guarantor mortgage at the society. Mr Urwin says that there are parents and grandparents who want to help their offspring become first-time buyers. This is made possible through sharing the initial cost of a mortgage, with the first-time buyers taking on increasing responsibility as they start getting paid more.

The new first-time buyer mortgage offerings include a deal that offers 100 per cent loan-to-value on properties valued up to £200,000.

The guarantor mortgage is available to first-time buyers between the ages of 21 and 35 who earn an annual salary of at least £15,000.
