Nobody wants to spend the first few months of being married paying of debts made during the wedding preparations. Therefore, the groom-to-be and bride-to-be should be very careful what to spend on. Here are a few things to consider.

- * Personalize the decorations. Not only does this add a personal touch to the celebration but this also cuts down on the cost. For example, if the bride or the groom is a photographer, they may choose having photos from their collection made the main subjects for the reception design. The photos may also be used for invitations and keepsakes,
- * Consider renting. Most of the items that will be used for decorations will not be used again. These include the centerpieces, the vases, the arc ways and the artificial flower arrangements. So ask your wedding decorator for options to rent these pieces.
- * Kids can get bored during the wedding reception. So instead of having kids seated at the same table with the adults, you can have an area where kids can be more casual and can have a small party of their own.
- * Marriage is a union of families. During the wedding rites, if possible, you may alter some of the practices to include the children of the bride or groom from previous marriage or the parents and families of the couple. Having them perform a special union rite will signify that the wedding is not just a union of two people but also of two families.
- * For the food during the reception, you may inquire with cooking or culinary arts schools. They may agree to cater for the reception for just the price of the food, or perhaps, a little more. You may also have a pot luck by asking family members and close friends to cook a dish.
- * If you wanted to cut down on the cost for the wedding party, you can just invite more people to the engagement party. Usually, only cocktails and hors d'oeuvres are served, which cost less than the full set of meals for the wedding reception guests.

* For the music, you can look for a local college band or DJ. You can also have your favorite songs just downloaded from the Internet and saved to an mp3 player or CD to be played over the speakers during the reception.

* When considering the cost of church decorations, check if there will be another couple that will get married on the same day. They may want to coordinate what decorations can be used for both wedding ceremonies to lessen the need to change decorations before or after the wedding and to split the cost.

Getting married should not be expensive. After all, the essence of marriage is in the union and not in the celebration. You shouldn't also try too hard to please the guests. Your family and friends are there to rejoice this wonderful event with you and not to criticize your wedding.

Important Steps In Your Wedding Program

By Ken Donald

You have probably heard of others who have used one. A wedding program. Do you really need one to manage your upcoming wedding? It all depends on how big a wedding you are planning. A regular wedding has thousands of things and stuff who needs to be taken care of on the right moment. If each thing is not done at the proper time and place, the whole wedding can get side tracked and cause a lot of trouble.

You need to take care of wedding invitations in good time before the wedding. The invitation of your guests is very important to get done early in your preparations. Things like wedding flowers for decoration, the wedding dress for the bride, ordering a wedding band perhaps, etc.. The list goes on and on. Planning your wedding can be difficult on a piece of paper. You really need a plan where every aspect has been thought of.

You also have to think about wedding favors, wedding rings and wedding accessories. Not to forget your honeymoon? Where should you go on this special occasion?

You have to think ahead. Try a search on the internet for wedding programs. You can find information in abundance. It is all out there on the internet online: wedding music, wedding photographers, wedding ideas and wedding cakes, etc.

With the wedding process written down on paper step by step, you are in control of the situation. And you know that you can relax and even enjoy the process from beginning of planning and all the way to your grand wedding day.

If your budget is a bit tight and your wedding program must save money where it is possible, you can make your own wedding invitations, and perhaps you know someone who can make the wedding flowers for example. The wedding party could be held at a less expensive place. The great thing about doing many things yourself is the personal touch your wedding will get. Great idea for creative people.

A wedding program is the most important step to stay on track from start to finish. Planning a wedding is no easy task to manage. Get a wedding program, and make that special wedding day perfect.

Thank you for your time.
