Do's And Don'ts To Keep You Safe If You Travel To Brazil

By Robert Thatcher

A nation that is rich in sights and attractions, Brazil is one of the best destination choices when you fly south of America. Brazil is the 5th largest and 5th most populous country in the world. Its territory spans from the Atlantic Ocean to the central and east of South America, dwarfing the neighboring countries of Argentina, Uruguay, and Paraguay in the south, Bolivia and Peru in the east, and Columbia, Venezuela, Guyana, Suriname, and French Guiana in the north.

10 Most Popular Brazil destinations:

Copacabana Beach, Rio de Janeiro, Corcovado, Rio de Janeiro, Museu de Arte de Sao Paulo, Sao Paulo, Ipanema Beach, Rio de Janeiro, Tijuca National Park, Rio de Janeiro, Iguacu Falls, Foz de Iguacu, Parana Pantanal Wetlands, Pantanal, Mato Grosso Teatro Municipal, Rio de Janeiro, Sugar Loaf Mountain (Pao de Acucar), Rio de Janeiro Pelourinho, Salvador, Bahia

If you plan to travel to any of these places or plan take Brazil experience elsewhere, here are some of the things you should remember.

Do's:

1. Try to learn as much Portuguese as you can. Yes, Portuguese. If you happen to visit other South American countries and have learned Spanish in the process, well, you can't use it. Try to learn some word- the usual conversational phrases and sentences. Remember that although you can survive with English in large cities, most people living in rural areas would not be able to understand you.
2. Avoid dark and isolated places especially if you are alone.
3. Carry only the basics. In this way, you can avoid the eyes of petty criminals.
4. Know your destination before leaving. This rule applies before you leave the United State and upon arrival at your hotel. Keep a map if you must and don't allow anyone to know you are lost if ever you caught in the situation. Knowing where you are going leads to a safer Brazil travel.

Do's And Don'ts To Keep You Safe If You Travel To Brazil

5. Bring necessary clothes and survival stuff. Bring long pants, long-sleeved shirt, eyeglasses, cap or hat to avoid mosquito bites. To further attracting illnesses from insects like dengue, leishmaniasis, and malaria, do bring insect repellent. Or, if you are planning to stay out overnight, bring mosquito nets, insect sprays, and necessary prescription medications.
6. Take taxi instead of busses. Bring money pouches strap around your neck. If you are driving your car, always keep the door locked.
7. Respect the locals.
8. If you are a victim of crime, report immediately.
9. Brazil like any other places has rules to follow. Obey them to keep you out of trouble.

Don'ts:

1. Never bring excessive valuables and show it to public. As much as possible leave your rings, necklaces, bracelets, and other jewelries in a safe place. You can rent a purchase deposit box to keep your valuables safe.
2. Don't carry money and credit card you don't need because you can never tell when pickpockets attack. Although Brazil has several safe places for tourists like Rio de Janeiro, it is always wise to keep your money in safe place. Try to carry enough cash for the day or at least one credit card with you. Leave the rest in you hotel.
3. Don't swim in any fresh waters.
4. Avoid eating street foods and drink only bottled water. Don't handle any animals.
5. Don't bring to your hotel room any strangers you meet outside.

Try An Exotic Brazil Holiday

By George Johnson

If a Brazil holiday sounds appealing to you, consider looking into Brazil rentals and vacation homes. There are a lot of options for vacationers and the prices are surprisingly reasonable. Vacation rentals are a great alternative to expensive hotels. They are like the proverbial home away from home.

Do's And Don'ts To Keep You Safe If You Travel To Brazil

A Brazil holiday is ideal any time of year. The country offers a lively nightlife and excellent weather all year. The country offers many different activities as well. There are thirty–six states in Brazil and each state has something of interest to everyone.

You can visit beaches and scuba dive or you can hike over mountains and check out the scenery and the wildlife. Brazil appeals to those who prefer cultural activities as well. There are artisan's workshops, dance classes and religious festivities that are unique and dear to the culture.

There are many listings from which to choose. You can opt to rent a sky rise apartment. These apartments provide the same services that you expect from a hotel but you still have the feeling of being home.

Sky rise apartments offer balconies and magnificent views, but they are also very close to shopping and restaurants. You can spend the day at the beach, make a quick change and visit the local stores and restaurants that you expect to find on a Brazil holiday.

Rentals offer many services that come in handy during a vacation. Most of the buildings are secure and are designed to entertain a family with children, couples or business people. You can find rentals for your Brazil holiday that provide a gym, sauna and pool. You can visit coffee shops, bakeries and retail stores.

The height of the travel season in Brazil is December through February and there is another peak season in July. In order to find the best rates, it is best to make arrangements during the off–season. Since Brazil's slow season spans nine out of twelve months, your options are vast.

Rentals are also appealing to people who are looking to take business trips to Brazil. Many rentals have all of the equipment necessary to run an office. Properties offer fax machines and phone lines along and some offer Internet connections. There are laundry services as well that can take care of your cleaning while you work. This gives you time to make the business trip into a Brazil holiday.

When you plan your Brazil holiday, make sure to give yourself a lot of time. Rentals are abundant pretty much all year, but flights can be very expensive if you book them too soon. Travel agents recommend that you book your flight to Brazil three months in advance to take advantage of discounted flights.

I would give some serious thought to taking my next holiday in Brazil.
