Easy Home Remedies For Curing Snoring

By Ashish Jain

Snoring is not a disease. It is a sort of an imbalance in the human body mechanism. Though, it is quite embarrassing for those who know that they snore. It causes a peculiar kind of disturbance and amusement to those around the person who is snoring.

Well, if the level of snoring could be controlled or eliminated altogether, it would be a good contribution to social peace. And it is certainly possible with some very easy home remedies.

1. Try some realignment with the sleeping postures. Elevate your head with pillows; or raise the head of your bed by several inches. The chances of your throat muscle blocking the air passage, when they relax in sleep are less. Don't sleep on your back. You are giving absolute freedom for the snoring exercise by doing so. Your tongue and soft palate fall back, narrowing the airway.

2. Next remedy for curing snoring is to bring in some lifestyle changes in your living. In addition to snoring, this step may solve many other problems as well.

Exercise regularly and lose extra pounds of your body. Prohibit the habit of smoking and drinking as alcohol relaxes the throat muscles and blocks the air passages further. Smoking also puts additional blocks in the air passages and leads to snoring. If you are in the habit of taking sleeping pills, antihistamines and tranquilizers, avoid them. They all help the cause of snoring.

3. Some over the counter medications can also be categorized under the home remedies. They are anti-snoring pills, throat sprays and nasal strips. The reason for their being counted as home remedies is that the ingredients contained in the anti-snoring pills are plant enzymes and herbs. They control nose and throat tissues from swelling. Thus they are conducive for smoother airflow that counters snoring.

4. Any drug free medication is equivalent to a home remedy. The formula of such medication is based on the experience of generations.

Effective Home Remedies For Snoring

By Alan Schill

It begins at home and is only fitting that it is treated at home. There are a number of home remedies for snoring, which can allow you to take control of your nights and enjoy the quality of sleep that you deserve.

One of the most effective home remedies for snoring is to sleep on your side. If you always find yourself sleeping on your back, you may never guess that your sleeping position is directly linked to snoring. When you sleep on your back, the muscles and tissue are more likely to relax in the back of the throat, restrict your airway passage and cause snoring. In addition, sleeping on two pillows instead of one is among the popular home remedies for snoring. The additional elevation may help to keep your airways open.

If you suffer from allergies, try inhaling steam from hot running water before you go to bed. The heat may help to open up the nasal passages and improve breathing. The same is true if you are prone to sinus infections or have recently been diagnosed with a cold or the flu. One of the best home remedies for snoring is to simply improve the quality of air that you breathe. If your airways are restricted, snoring is much more likely. By ridding your home of allergens, you will increase air quality and enjoy the benefits of cleaner air. The presence of air filtration units in every room, especially the bedroom, is a good idea.

A majority of physicians will recommend trying a variety of home remedies for snoring before resorting to invasive surgery. After all avenues have been pursued without success, a doctor may consider a surgical procedure. In addition, if home remedies for snoring do not provide effective results, the sufferer may have sleep apnea. This is a serious condition which, if left untreated, may result in heart disease, an increased likelihood of a stroke or other medical problem. Sleep apnea occurs when the sufferer's airway passages become completely blocked and they stop breathing completely on multiple occasions throughout the night.
