By Puripong Koomsin

In a flight never carry any of the items mentioned below

- Many flights do not allow to carry any kind of liquids or fluids including perfumes, hairspray, shampoos have been banned recently due to safety measures (please check with your air flight company)
- Under no situation carry drugs, heroine, brown sugar and any other kind of narcotics.
- Needless to mention although never carry any kind of compressed gas cylinders like oxygen, butane, and aqualung.
- Corrosives such as acids, alkalis, mercury and wet cell alkalis or fireworks, guns and flares
- Lighters, matches, magnetized materials, offensive irritating materials, medicines without prescriptions. (there are few other items that are banned in certain countries that might even lead you to imprisonment so be extra cautious not to break any rules and never forget to ask for a travel law copy from an agent)

Inside Countries Law

- If your flight is full and you want to quit it voluntarily always ask for better incentives if you feel you are not offered well.
- If your luggage is expensive and you want to declare a higher value then please do it at the time of check in so that the airline will become liable in case of loss.
- In Europe rules are very strict, so if you get to know that you have victimized `bait and switch' that do not forget to file a complaint with the attorney general of the state. The results are much faster for a traveler because tourism is a big business for Europe and they do not want to lose on the tourists.

European Flight Travel Laws

- The major car rental service provides free assistance if you have a flat tyre so don't forget to contact your company in case you face one of these situations
- European countries have strict rules against law breaking so in case if you break one don't panic and always let them know that you are a foreigner you might be let go of.
- Littering off in a garden or tourist attraction could end you up in heavy fines so always remember to use bins.
- Never bribe a cop in the European countries that might lead you to severe fines or imprisonment.
- Never overtake or drive fast they will levy a heavy charge on you. Always follow the traffic lights and road instructions which are very well organized in the European countries.
- Always be polite to people and never trust a stranger in the Europe because there are thieves and bag snatchers at tourist locations
- Gay sex and lesbians are not encouraged at all places in this continent unless you are in Amsterdam (A city in Netherlands) where free sex is allowed.
- If you are caught with a prostitute or a whore you might end up in severe imprisonment.
- Never drink too much because if you get unconscious the police might catch you and jail you up.

Are You Trying To Find European Low Cost Airlines?

By Ray Andrew

If you plan a trip to Europe on this year, take note of European low cost airlines. Get discounts by flying on Europe's new low cost airlines connecting hundreds of European cities. Europe has a wide and growing number of low cost airlines offering not expensive flights to almost each European country. European low cost airlines bring on savings account priced fares, flexibility on when and where to travel and serves many countries not flown to by full fare airlines. European low cost airlines are generally no frills, however that doesn't mean they aren't safely, bright, comfortably situated and courteous.

Most European low cost airlines just sell ticket on the web and telephone. Most of the time you couldn't do shopping tickets for these airlines via travel agents. Tickets for flights on European cheap airlines do not sell at a fixed price. Most of the airlines raise the cost as seats are sold and as the date of departure gets near. Getting a last minute ticket on a low cost airline could at times be just as priced as to travel on a full fare airline. To have the most advanced ticket prices you should get your tickets with enough time in advance of the day you wish to go for a travel.

The European savings account airlines issue tickets at a low price, nevertheless this does not come without cost. Luggage usually can't be checked through from one flight to the subsequent. No free food. Little or no assistance when flights are delayed. Single leg flights. Not enough baggage allowance. Some of the premier European cheap airlines are EasyJet, RyanAir, Sky Europe and Smart Wings. So if you are preparing a travel to Europe this year, take the benefits of European low cost airlines being aware of your travel important needs.

Remember that the most low prices you will find on these airlines is if you reserve your seats months ahead. That doesn't mean that you can't get a very good price buying a few weeks before the date. However Cheap airlines have fewer services or commodities for their passengers. If you are on a tight budget a recommend you use one of these airlines and reserve your seat ahead of time.
