

This Free E-Book is brought to you by Natural-Aging.com.

100% Effective Natural Hormone Treatment
Menopause, Andropause And Other Hormone Imbalances
Impair Healthy Healing In People Over The Age Of 30!

Girls' Boarding School

By Matt Garrett

Is your girl child feeling pressured in the co-ed classroom environment? Do you want to bring up your child in a healthy all girls' environment? Well then waste no time to admit your girl to a good and reputed girls' boarding school where she will receive the proper training to develop a self-belief that will help her to become tomorrow's leader.

Education is not just attending school and learning facts. Your child should have to develop skills to meet the challenges of the future. A girls' boarding school will give your girl the right environment to learn and grow. Girls in a boarding school find a close-knit community, wide variety of clubs, teams and activities that help to have a proper intellectual, emotional, social and spiritual growth.

A girls' boarding school will enable your child to explore the world around her, both inside and out of the classroom. In the classroom they will have sharing and will have an equal exchange of ideas. She will get a competitive environment where she will learn to perform and dominate. In most of the schools the students remain busy on weekdays with their academic schedules, electives, extra curricular activities and evening studies. While on weekends they have a lot of relaxation, weekend trips, recreation and cultural outings.

The resident students and faculty of a girls' boarding school form a community. The resident faculties are the disciplinarians and hand holders of the students. They always keep an eye to the girls, assist and guide them and offer counsel when necessary. They all form a family away from home. Sometimes the schools even take the resident girls to local malls, movie, shopping, amusement park and cultural events.

The girls' boarding schools have lots of activities. What does your girl like? Is she interested in sports? Boarding schools, these days, have their own athletic centers featuring basketball and volleyball courts, fitness centers, aerobics room and also gymnasiums. Each school has a specialized gymnasium director to guide your child. If she is interested in music, there are music departments where she can have training in music. She will also have the opportunity to perform in music ensemble. The girls' boarding schools also guide the students to express themselves artistically. They have special drawing, painting classes to develop their skills in drawing.

Girls' Boarding School

When your child is in a girls' boarding school you may wonder whether your child is having proper nutrition. You need not have to worry about your child's diet, as the boarding schools are on a mission to encourage the girls to have a proper and healthy choice regarding their daily menu. The schools promote healthier eating of the students by adding more nutritious and organic foods to their menu.

As girls start growing they may start to become interested in boys. If such happens to your child she will be more concerned about boys than her books. But studying in girls' boarding school will protect your child from the impact of boys. Besides, the girls are not subject to sexual harassment in an all girls environment.

Social and emotional growth of the girls is the motto of the girls' boarding schools. A good girls' boarding school will not only offer your girl child with the support and guidance to develop her intellect, curiosity and creativity but also the school will help your child to build up her self-discipline and decision making skills and abilities.

Matt Garrett

<http://www.Private-Boarding-School.Com>

–

<http://www.LearnStuff.Org>

The Rep

By Keith D Commiskey

As a young girl, while growing up in Junior High, if you show that you are too eager to be with boys, or even a certain boy, you will, sooner or later, be seen as "desperate". Come High School, reputation becomes more important (to girls) than looks. Imagine if you have a bad hair day, your next day you can still shine. But if you get a bad rep one day, your entire year can suffer. At least that's the case in High School (in Junior High your bad rep is forgotten the moment someone else becomes news).

Boys, by their very nature, are, and will always be, desperate creatures. This is a given. Therefore, it is the responsibility of the girl to make sure that this evolutionary process is maintained. That is, they cannot let show that they are "eager" to be with this boy, then that boy. And if a boy is able to come between to girl friends, they've turned the tables. This is not good for either girl. Only the most charming boys can pull this off, but it can be done. And these are the guys that you'll want to be with the most! Be very careful girls, because this can be the "life or death" of your reputation in High School (and yes, it begins in Junior High).

So, girls, in keeping with the tradition, and for the future of all girls, never let a guy see your eagerness to be with him. "Hard To Get" works like a charm, and is the single biggest advantage of girls over boys

(and even women over men). Never let a guy come between you and your friends. Never, ever, let a guy feel as though they have the control over you; or, as sure as the sun came up this morning, they will take that control, and never give it back. Keep them guessing. Keep them eager to want you. Keep "them" desperate!

The way to accomplish this is by never letting a guy get the "Hard To Get" advantage over you. You must make him feel like you're self-sufficient and that you can live without him, while at the same time showing little signs here and there that you are interested. A boyfriend/girlfriend relationship will last much longer if you don't blurt out, "YES!" when he asks you to the next dance (and yes, he must ask "you") or asks if he can sit with you during lunch. Think about it for a second, and then calmly reply, "Sure. That sounds good." There are thousands of proven ways to make them want to be with you even more.

Remember, if you'd like to guarantee yourself a great reputation in High School, you have to show restraint in Junior High. Never let them see you sweat :) And never, ever let them see your desperation, no matter how desperate you really are! The girls that the (important) boys want most in High School are the girls that have restraint and dignity. Boys do not. These are the girls the geeks stay away from because they think, "She'd never like me." They're the girls the jocks say, I'll take her, and her, and her ... They're the girls that the intelligent, good looking boy knows, to get with her, he must also spend time with, and like to be with, her one or two not-so-good-looking friends.

The most important thing to remember, above all, is that a great looking guy won't necessarily take out the trash, show respect for you by opening the door for you, or get up in the middle of the night to feed the baby. So while you're gawking at that "Ashton Kutcher" look-alike, take a step back and see if he's also got some "Mekhi Phifer" in him. Great looks are second to reputation in High School. And while immaturity will show your age, it'll end up leaving you with only the geeks to choose from. Being mature makes for an awesome and long-lasting reputation with the guy who will take the time to make it past the "Hard To Get" routine. It'll get you that guy of your dreams!

Keith D Commiskey is the husband to a great wife, and step-dad to one great daughter turning teen. Keith does graphics and web design by day; and is a father, husband and entrepreneur by night. He established himself as a web and database developer beginning in 1995, and has layered those talents on top of his graphics and computer animation experience which he began 1991. Hi is the sole creator and owner of two sites with creative thoughts that just won't stop:

<http://www.giftsforyou.biz>

and

<http://www.kdcinfo.com>

The Rep

Snowboard Girls Take Your Skills To The Next Level At Girls-Only Camps

How To Find The Best Places In The World To Visit For Kneeboarding
Mean Girls (DVD) Review
Types Of Add Manifestation In Children

Help Your Child Succeed In School
People Finder Software
The Art of Kissing
Vintage Crochet Patterns Bridal
How to become a Chef!

This Free E-Book has been brought to you by Natural-Aging.com.

100% Effective Natural Hormone Treatment
Menopause, Andropause And Other Hormone Imbalances
Impair Healthy Healing In People Over The Age Of 30!