Texas hill country is a region in central Texas comprised of more than 14,000 square miles of majestic beauty spread -out across more than 50 cities/areas such as Fredericksburg, and Llano. With picturesque landscapes that can only be describes as, "Inspired by Heaven."

Great hills made of limestone stand tall, reaching upwards to meet the horizon. Wildflowers with the most brilliant colors blanket the fields. Crystal-clear streams (running cool and fast), abundant wildlife roaming about free: all make for some breathtaking sight-seeing and award-winning photo opportunities.

The city of Fredericksburg is at the heart of central Texas and its hill country. Fredericksburg rests near Enchanted Rock State Park, a 1,643 acre park which has the 2nd largest granite outcrop in the United States. You can take a leisurely nature walk, or hike up one of the many hills. For the truly adventurous you can rock climb and repel. Have a family picnic or camp out in the park. Take a tour of some of the homes and buildings located in the `historical district of Fredericksburg. You can see 18th and 19th century-era homes that remain today as testaments to the influences that German immigrants had on the area. Some of these historical homes and buildings have been turned into quaint bed and breakfast Inns to welcome guests. You will also find well-known shops, restaurants and beer gardens this Texas hill country town.

Other sites of interest to visitors to Texas hill country include:

The historical Fort Martin Scott, a pre-civil war military outpost which was the 1st. frontier post in Texas.

The Old West Museum: which depicts the lives of early settlers, and the Indians that populated the area in the 1800's and beyond?

The Rope and Herd Ranch: Learn how to rope and herd longhorns here at this western ranch

Little Ones

By Joyce C. Lock

Little Ones by Joyce C. Lock

(suggested midi – Oh, Be Careful, Little Hands What You Do)

There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are exceeding wise:

1. The ants are a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer;
2. The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make they their houses in the rocks;
3. The locusts have no king, yet go they forth all of them by bands;

4. The spider taketh hold with her hands, and is in kings' palaces.

A little one shall become a thousand, and a small one a strong nation:
I the Lord will hasten it in his time.

Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as a little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven. And whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me.

Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, That in heaven their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven. And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea.

Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.

I write unto you, little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake. I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father.

Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous.

My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth. Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.

Little children, keep yourselves from idols. Amen.
