Hair Removal - From Razor To Laser

By Carol Evans

Looking to remove some of those unsightly hairs from certain regions of your body? There are several options, each with its advantages and disadvantages.

Hair removal used to be the sole territory of women (North American women, at that!) but such is the case no longer. Men are getting hair removed in ever greater numbers, and for most of the population that is a good thing. The question for both men and women who want to have hair removed is; "What treatment should I go for?" There are a few options, including the traditional razor, waxing, and a relatively new technique, laser hair removal.

The razor, of course, is tried, true, convenient, and cheap. However, if you remove that hair with a razor, be prepared for a lot of repeats. This can cause skin irritation and roughness. Also, using a razor on some of body parts is virtually impossible—men who want to shave their backs are going to be pretty much out of luck.

One alternative to the razor is waxing. Waxing is more expensive than using a razor, but it also lasts much longer. Waxing is also a better option for areas with a large amount of hair, and it even cuts down on some work. Waxing can also be done with more precision than using a razor, which is great for a nicely sculpted look.

The drawback to waxing, of course, is that it hurts. Make no mistake, you are ripping the hairs out by the root, and there is pain involved. Many people brave the pain, though, and are rewarded with a long term, beautifully sculpted hairless area. If the thought of waxing makes you want to run away screaming, there is another option.

Lasers are the latest rage in all sorts of cosmetic procedures, and hair removal is just one. Removing unwanted hair with lasers is painless, and as with waxing the effects are long term. Some people believe laser hair removal is permanent, but in fact it takes several treatments before the hair stops growing altogether. The downside to laser hair removal, of course, is the price. It is a very expensive procedure. Utilizing laser hair removal in just the bikini area can run upwards of $1,000. The cost of just one section of leg can be as high as $2,500!

Like a lot of areas in life, ease comes expensively. The more you are willing to spend, the more convenient the hair removal you may purchase. If you go the expensive route, make sure to shop around before signing the credit card bill!

By Jeff Jefferson

Laser body hair removal works better than most of the other methods out there mainly because it is not only painless but lasts far longer than others.

This is because it works by removing the hair from the very follicle, thereby prolonging the time it will take to grow back up again.

While laser body hair removal method is one of the best ways of removing unwanted body hair, it is important for you to know some facts before going ahead with it.

This fact is the high cost of laser body hair removal.

It is not at all cheap to do laser body hair removal. The cost is what usually scares people off, despite the benefits. Many people don't have the kind of money required for laser hair removal.

For example, for you to remove facial hair, you will undergo series of treatments. In some places, these series of treatments could cost upwards to $1,000. There are even other types of laser body hair removal that costs as much as $2,500 dollars or more.

Many people find it very hard to cough out this amount of money for laser body hair removal, despite the advantages it has over other methods of hair removal.

Hair Removal – From Razor To Laser

So, if you are considering laser body hair removal, it is important for you to make sure you have the money to pay for it before contemplating it. You could also look around for the cost effective place to undergo your laser body hair removal.

To make you feel better when paying the huge amount of money for laser body hair removal, you should know that it can last up to six to twelve months before you need another one. So, if you add up the cost you usually spend to remove your hair every week or month, it could be as much as the single laser hair treatment that will last you for many months and even up to a year.
