Holistic Junction's featured school of the week is Oriental Healing Arts Institute – 'training the hands that heal.' Conveniently situated in central Denver, Colorado, the Oriental Healing Arts Institute offers a Chinese Medical Massage program that has been personally developed by Dr. Zhizhong Nan.

Oriental Healing Arts Institute of Colorado's therapeutic massage course is unique and separate from other forms of massage curriculum, as their Denver massage school includes natural healing training and instruction by expertly trained faculty that are not only highly skilled but also educated in both Eastern and Western forms of healing techniques.

Oriental Healing Arts Institute includes instruction in Anatomy and Physiology, Kinesiology, Pathology, CPR, Swedish Massage, Deep Tissue, TuiNa, Eastern Massage, Tai Ji, Hydrotherapy and much more.

Limiting class size to 12, Oriental Healing Arts Institute provides an incredible opportunity for individualized attention and productive educational progress in a hands-on learning environment.

The Oriental Healing Arts Institute continually achieves and exceeds their teaching mission through maintaining the following objectives:

" *To develop a modern, expanded definition of massage as a body and mind energetic, integrative approach that unites physical and behavioral perspectives on human health and related dysfunctions.

*To ground the educational programs of the school in a competency-based model where experience through hands-on instruction comes first.

*To train students in various styles of classical and modern massage techniques, as well as Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM) practices.

*To create a learning environment which gives students an expansive pool of health–giving knowledge through exposure to master senior practitioners that are trained in East Asian, European and North American medical traditions.

*To educate students in the integration of various massage treatments to facilitate and maintain a patient's wellness of body and mind.

*To provide post–graduate education to other health care professionals in other aspects of Oriental medicine.

*To encourage the school's students, faculty and alumni to actively participate in both State and National massage and Oriental medicine associations and projects."

Oriental Healing Arts Institute is approved by the State of Colorado to offer certified massage therapy education (CMT) and is a member in good standing of the Associated Bodywork and Massage Professionals (ABMP) and is recognized as an approved massage therapy school by the National Certification Board for Therapeutic Massage and Bodywork (NCBTMB) as well.

In addition to their phenomenal instructional paths, Oriental Healing Arts Institute in Colorado affords students special opportunities for intensive training through travel and training with masters of Traditional Chinese Medicine in China.

The Oriental Healing Arts Institute is committed to your success by offering in–house financing with no interest (pay as you go).

If you are interested in learning TuiNa – one of the world's oldest and effective healing techniques, and, Chinese Medical Massage Oriental Healing Arts Institute may be the right school of choice for you.
