Lia Beamer: A New Hero Emerges

Lisa Beamer: A New Hero Emerges

She took to the skies to make a statement against fear, against terrorism, and as an expression of her personal faith in God. She met with Todd's associates in the hope of raising funds for the Todd M. Beamer Foundation, dedicated to assisting the 22 children who lost parents aboard Flight 93. Her hope is that those children will grow up into the kind of people who "can make courageous and moral decisions."

And so recently a new hero has emerged— as Lisa Beamer retraced her late husband's steps— boarding the same Newark to San Francisco flight that Todd Beamer took that terrible day in September 2001. She completed the flight he began, meeting with associates, that Todd was on his way to visit.

With a daughter, Morgan Kay, born in January Lisa Beamer is now the surviving mom of three, as Morgan joins brothers, David and Drew. Lisa reports that little Morgan has Todd's hair color, chin and eyes.

Lisa was named 'one of the world's most intriguing persons of the year 2001 by People magazine. On January 18, 2002, Lisa announced that Tyndale House publishers will publish her story of the ill fated flight 93, to give people a behind the scenes look at her late husband Todd Beamer.

She has started the Todd Beamer Memorial fund, which will aid victims of the disaster as well as Todd's favorite charities. Contributions

THE HERO IN YOU

By Onaefe Umenu Edebi

So much we look up to higher places for help and encouragement. We all want someone who comes to us when we fall, when we are down. Someone to hold on to. But this hero is not always there, and as a thought "an angel has broken my heart".

But there's a hero, who's always there in joy, sadness, laughter and pain. Always there, he comes through for me. It's funny, when within me, I say "I don't see my hero", because though I may not see Him, I know He is there. Like an angel, He watches over me.

But you know what? We all have that hero. He is available to all of us— including you. We see Him, on the dawn of each new day; when we look through the image in the mirror. Even at night when we lay our head to sleep, our hero is always there; forgetting the past, concentrating on the present and seeing a bright future.

It's really simple.
