MAKEGLOBALCASH.COM ANNOUNCES NEW LOOK! by Brian Didier

MakeGlobalCash.com, the leading search engine of niche home base business sites, announced today that it has a brand new look and feel. Its simple and straightforward format makes searches direct and very transparent.

Search engines have been evolving in response to market forces driven by the consumer's need for direct, simple and relevant searches. MakeGlobalCash.com returned to the drawing board and completely reengineered its niche market search format. The result is a very clean, fast search engine that gets results.

Search engines of course are neither new nor unique. And MakeGlobalCash.com `s engine doesn't look much different from the other more familiar players such as GOOGLE, YAHOO or MSN. So why all the hoopla??

According to Mark Didier MD president and partner of MakeGlobalCash.com the answer is simple. A niche market search allows individuals and small businesses with a narrow focus of interest to economically locate each other. For example, if a home based business is involved in marketing cookware, then having a method that connects that business to people with an interest in cooking is essential. Instead of competing with Internet traffic that has nothing to do with my business a niche market search engine gets my products in front of people actually searching for culinary related items.
