Magazines: Mans Best Friend

By James Brown

Magazines are a man's best friend. Imagine having a friend, who constantly entertains you, humors

you. tickles you...and gives you company not only in the icy confines of the tundra but also in the blistering desert sands of the Sahara....in a remote jungle of Africa or the busy hula boo of the subway...it keeps you entertained as you wait for the dentist to have your wisdom tooth extracted.....it .stimulates your grey matter as you fly 15000 feet over the ground and sip your Bacardi breezer....it cajoles your imagination , even as you are sailing with only the vast expanse of the ocean for company...even the limiting confines of the humble washroom becomes inviting with an interesting magazine in hand...

After a hard day of work what better relaxant then your favorite magazine? What better ways to unwind then loose your self in its glossy pages? Research shows that reading slowly calms a hyperactive mind, there by educing slumber. As you slowly drown in the enticing words of your favored magazine, all your troubles seem to fade away and your breathing deepens and gradually all your senses relax, gently transporting you to a place, where dreams rule....

Magazines can be alluring even to a toddler, who not only enjoys its pictures but also its taste! Have you noticed how a small child reacts to a magazine? First it will pick it up with its pudgy fingers, and then bring it to his little nostrils to smell and finally try to bite gently with his tiny teeth! Only then would he flip through the pages to look at his favorite pictures. And thus starts a love affair with magazines that will last a life time.

For every stage of his growth there are a million magazines that will hold his attention. As a little boy, his imagination would soar with the mystical and mythical characters that we grew up with...remember the Walt Disney comics? The spell of Mandrakes magic and Lothario's momentous muscles? The thrill of Phantom- ghost who walks, as he slays evil, comic after comic....

Even as we stumble into our teens, we zealously guard our cherished, few, dog eared tattered magazine of our yesteryears, that we carry as our security blanket as we step into the real world, and try to make friends with newer ideas and forever changing circumstances. New magazines find their way into our lives, without which our growth would be incomplete...the supersonic speed with which the teenage years pass out grow not only clothes but also the temperamental teenage rebel, with whom only his magazines can compare. Racy, stylish, bold and beckoning...is at the distant future.

The surge of adult adrenalin, heralds the advent of a fulfilled dream. An ambition achieved...vocation, spouse, house, car.....an endless list of new interests that only a magazine can keep track of...Thankfully a magazine caters for every age and every walk of life. Even the most uncommon interest too shall have a magazine devoted to it.

`Thus there is one for every one'. Seek and you shall find. Let our extended arms be your guide and lead you to your desired magazine, but at the right cost. It is our sincere Endeavour to protect your hard earned money, while at the same time keep your interest ignited by our articles.
