Making Decisions by Daniel N. Brown

Think about what is going on in your life right now. Are there things that you really aren't thrilled about? Or, are there things that you are really excited about? What are the choices that you made that led up to your current circumstances?

There is a cause and effect to everything. You think a thought, and then you decide whether or not to act upon it. If you act upon it, there will be a result. If you do not act upon it, there will be a result.

We are always making decisions in some fashion and a lot of decisions are relatively minor. Like what to have for dinner tonight. But, if we want to live our dreams, we will have to get out of the boat and take some real chances.

Some people are born decision makers and others aren't. This is a plus and a minus for both parties. If you are a decision maker, you tend to be quite productive, but also you could get in over your head, especially if you are really risky. If you are not a decision maker, you play it safe. This can keep you out of trouble, but also you are less likely to achieve your goals.

God, in His infinite wisdom, will allow us to make our own choices. Those choices then, will decide what direction our lives take. Where we wind up will always be a result of our choices.

Many times, we are forced to make choices without knowing the exact outcome. Should you remain undecided in those cases? No choice is a choice and there will be a result.

Don't be afraid of making decisions. Be in control of your life! Think positive thoughts, come up with ideas, seek advice from Godly people who are on the same page, spend time with God and seek His council, and then act!

How to be decisive? by ajaypats

The more alternatives, the more difficult the choice. The first step to getting the things you want out of life is this: Decide what you want. It is our choices...that show what we truly are, far more than our abilities. The self is not something ready-made, but something in continuous formation through choice of action. A decision is nothing more than a wish until you act on it. The more quickly you act on the decisions you make, the more powerful and effective those decisions will be.

Every moment you wait before taking action makes that action less and less likely. The moment you decide is the moment to start putting real substance behind your decision.

Give power to your choices by giving them your efforts. Even if the first step is small, take it right away. For your actions will create momentum. Once momentum is on your side, you greatly increase your success rate.

Being truly decisive means more than just making decisions. It means making a commitment to see them through. That takes action. And the sooner it starts, the more power it has.
