Making Your Own Delicious Latte Coffee

By Jenny Riley

When many of us get out of bed in the morning, after going through our toiletry routines, the next thing that comes into our head is a nice fresh cup of. you guess right, coffee! Its like we can perceive the aroma as it invites us from the kitchen, or, to acknowledge the evolving society, the drive through.

The craze across the country now is about latte coffee, and the appeal cuts across both gender. So it is safe to conclude that we are in a new java epoch. Though when I was growing up the drip pot was the favorite of my parents, I promised myself I must get an espresso machine no matter what, and I can proudly say it is now resting on my kitchen counter.

This has made me to afford the luxury of being able to sit back and relaxed with an iced vanilla latte coffee any time I want it. You surprised about the vanilla bit? well it happens to be my favorite, and I guess we all have one when it comes to caffeinated beverage flavors. Can you let us in on your favorite latte coffee?

Are you a regular feature at the local drive thru coffee joint? And how frequent do you pass their line around daily, once, or twice? Regardless of your response it is obvious you are spending considerable money at this joint. Don't get me wrong, cos I am not saying you should quit drinking coffee or never derive pleasure from a fresh latte coffee again, far from it.

My point is you should consider the huge sums you spend on fancy coffee drinks, because most latte coffees cost about $3 or $5 a cup, and a single cup daily translates to about $20 per week, which is an average of $80 every month. I will let you figure out your annual bill for latte coffee by yourself. I bet you will be tempted to go marching down the coffee house demanding all your money back.

There is no point crying over spilled milk, rather you should start planning how to prepare your own latte coffee right inside your home. And what you need to make this a reality is an espresso machine, which fortunately is very available in different forms in the market.

When you get this done, it is then you can start fantasizing about the flavors for your latte coffee. It all depend on your preference, whether you like your coffee iced or steaming hot. Everyone likes their java prepared in different ways. It is the reason why the coffee beverage industry is experiencing a boom.

You can up the ante by going online and search for the coffee joints in your locality, or you can browse the net for espresso machines and high quality beans across the planet.

Sweet And Creamy

By Bill Johnson

If you delight to get another cup of coffee, no problems about that! Coffee is now on every street corner everywhere in the country.

And if you are a big java drinker, feel at home. You are one of those who look to a fine caffeine beverage everyday to start their morning the right way. Coffee is now the bomb!

What makes coffee very great these days is the mad selection. There are now so many coffee mixtures that your head spins thinking of them. With all the espresso-based lattes that are available, you will surely find one that will impress you.

These days, what is important is the syrups and coffee creamers galore.

I don't know what your favorite cup of coffee is. But for me, I always prefer vanilla latte. To me, it's sweet and creamy, but it still gives a lot of room for the fresh ground coffee taste.

This is where it beats many of the new-age coffee creamers and syrups because they woefully fail to do that.

If you have ever tried a hazelnut or amaretto latte you will notice that the flavor of the syrup is very powerful; herein the true coffee taste doesn't shine through.

This is what some people prefer. For example, my wife is in love with the infinite syrups and coffee creamers that she has. In her words, she wants her coffee to be sweet and creamy and also with a hint of coffee flavor.

Of course she's not alone in this preference. Many people have different tastes and prefer different things from other people. This is the reason why the variety of coffee creamers and flavor is so fantastic.

Some people like to always keep enough selection of latte syrups and coffee creamers everywhere in the kitchen as a random break from the norm. This helps when company arrives. People always love selection, that is why it is said that "variety is the spice of life".

Whether or not they like a nice espresso drink or just a cup of drip coffee, they can find syrups and coffee creamers that will pleasantly compliment either.

I don't know about you, but I prefer keeping a few rich coffee creamers handy in my refrigerator in case my parents pop in. Like all parents, they are old-school coffee drinkers and always prefer perking fresh pot each morning.

All the new craze of cappuccinos, lattes, and iced coffee drinks haven't done anything for their retro tastes.

Do you notice how they laugh at us when we drink iced lattes with whip cream? Whichever, you can always find a decent selection of latte syrups and coffee creamers for your pleasure, either at your local grocery store or online.
