My Free eBook Will Get You Started On Writing for Profit

By Jim Green

I make my living as a writer in the niche non-fiction genre, churning out traditional and digitally published titles that consistently feature in the bestseller lists. (Don't take my word for this statement though: check me out at Amazon.com for examples of my hard copy produce). As a consequence of my endeavors I've picked up more than a few wrinkles on the art of producing work that readers want to read and now I am pleased to pass on to you free of charge a initial gateway to the essentials of writing for profit.

Could you draw down an income generating idea from your accumulated expertise?

Could you write a niche non-fiction book on the topic?

Could you get it published in hardback format?

Could you convert it into digital format?

Could you get it published in both formats?

Could you create residual income streams from your endeavors?

You could if you knew how...

How To Write An Ebook, One Article At A Time

By John Colanzi

How To Write An Ebook, One Article At A Time by John Colanzi

It's amazing how long it took me to start my first ebook I didn't think of myself as an author.

I knew that information was creating a fortune for others, but who was I to think I could write a book?

I knew all the reasons to do it. The task just seemed so daunting.

I started out writing and submitting articles. It didn't seem as hard, although sometimes the words came slow.

The old story of use it or lose it is so true. Once I started getting some positive feedback, I could feel a shift in my thinking.

The more I wrote the easier it got. As my articles began to circulate the feedback began to increase.

Maybe I am a writer!

Web sites and newsletters starting picking up my articles and some ezines were publishing everything I submitted.

I started writing more articles, and they started becoming easier to write. It was an ever increasing cycle.

The ideas started coming faster. It got to the point I always had more ideas in my mind than I had time to write.

Before I knew it I had over 60 articles and my output was getting faster.

I began to realize that with a little editing to make the articles flow together, I could begin writing books.

I now had my own built in database. Now the ideas for articles are becoming ideas for books. I have tons of articles to expand into chapters and I can link them together into a quality book.

So the next time you sit down to write an article, realize you're really writing a mini book.

Once you start getting in the habit of writing articles, realize you are writing a book, one article at a time.

If this dummy can do it, I know you can!!
