Permanent Makeup - Important Facts

With so many people having so much to do during the day, we are always looking for ways to cut down on our time. For women, one very time–consuming activity is applying makeup each morning, or even several times per day. One way to help can be by utilizing permanent makeup.

Permanent makeup can be a wonderful choice for women who play sports, have many things to do each day, are allergic to many cosmetic products, or just want to spend less time and money on the entire process. Permanent makeup, also known as cosmetic tattooing, is becoming quite popular, but there are things you should know before having the procedure done.

When having permanent makeup applied, the process, also called micropigmentation, includes applying dyes under the skin that give the illusion that a woman is wearing eyeliner, eyebrow pencils, lip liners, and even lipstick. If done correctly by a highly trained professional, a woman can achieve a very natural look.

A woman deciding whether or not permanent makeup will be right for her should look into all the options. She should do a lot of research and understand that there are many advantages, as well as disadvantages, to having such a permanent procedure done on her face.

One advantage is definitely the time issue. Not having to apply makeup each day is a real time saver. But, you won't have the option of varying your makeup shades since only one shade is able to be tattooed onto your skin.

But the disadvantage of permanent makeup is that, as with any type of surgical procedure, there are risks. You should always consult with your doctor, as well as verifying the credentials of the person who will apply the permanent makeup, before you have the procedure done.

If you've decided to go ahead and have permanent makeup applied, there are different types to choose from. You can have eyebrow liner applied to help with sparse eyebrows, you can have eyeliner applied to help your eyelashes look thicker, and you can even have lip liner or lipstick applied so you never have to worry about pale lips again.

Permanent Makeup – Important Facts

Another option is dying your lashes. This is great for women who suffer from near-sightedness, are athletes, or even women who are always on the go. It is also a great alternative to mascara for those women who have makeup allergies or a shaky hand.

Remember, when choosing to have permanent makeup applied to your face, there are several things that you should be aware of. The inks and dyes that are used to when permanent makeup is applied are known as color additives. Most surprisingly, none of them have ever been approved for use as permanent makeup.

Currently, the FDA is in the process of evaluating the safety of having permanent makeup applied. Their biggest concern is the use of unsterile equipment that can transmit quite infectious diseases, therefore all equipment must be clean and sanitized.

Lastly, unlike with a regular tattoo, permanent makeup can not be removed easily, and, in some cases, permanent discoloration can occur.

Look Natural - Wear Makeup!

By Mike Yeager

Have you ever considered how difficult it is to look natural? Quite difficult - isn't it? Especially if there had been no makeup available to achieve it! Many-a-website points out how ordinary our glamorous celebrities look in real life without makeup on. No wonder then that they are always on the lookout for innovative makeup supplies. Such demands have seen a virtual makeover for the makeup business much to the delight of a demanding population yearning to look good.

The art and science of good makeup.

Makeup is still an art - supported ably, of course, by science. Gone are the days when good makeup meant just soaps, perfumes and oils carefully selected after word-of-mouth recommendation. Today, your persona comes through in MAC makeup - or was it Max Factor? Take your pick! Show off your gorgeous eyes - wear eye makeup. Impress your peers with a prom makeup worn specially for "the nite". Make a statement with a tattoo or a strategic permanent makeup. Take expert advice - makeup tips are available for the asking. Desist from using chemicals which may harm your sensitive skin - wear mineral makeup instead! Consider this - you don't have to wear stage makeup if you don't need to flaunt your expressions under the arc lights to an audience. Wear makeup - an appropriate one. Or better still; don't wear any - especially if you are among the lucky few who can carry off that natural look - naturally!
