Planning a Baby Shower that is Fun for Guests and New Mother Alike

By Katie Simpson

Planning a baby shower is the loveliest gift that you can give to a mother to be. But it takes quite a lot of effort to make everything in the baby shower flow smoothly and in order.

You have the responsibility of deciding when to hold the baby shower. Most people would prefer that it be prior to the arrival of the baby but some, due to superstitious beliefs, would prefer to wait for the baby to come. Deciding on the venue of the baby shower is also your problem, the visitors to be invited, and invitation cards; gifts to give the visitors, theme (if it is necessary), cakes, and other foods to be prepared.

These are all your concerns when you are planning to have a baby shower. It is really not as easy as what you imagine. But disregarding all these worries, the bottom line is you can give happiness to a mother-to-be.

One important part that people often forget to include in the planning is the games. This is one of the most exciting parts of a baby shower. It makes the celebration more fun and colorful. This is where the visitors can participate and enjoy the occasion.

Most baby showers last about two to three hours. The first half hour can be used for the guests to spend mingling with other visitors and eating the finger foods and other goodies prepared for them. The next half hour could be spent in playing a couple of games.

The games that will be played could be based on the theme of the baby shower. Some very popular baby shower games are: The Winning Plate, The Price is Right Game, Baby Picture Match Game, Just Eat It, Word of the Day, The Brown Bag Game, The Tray Game, Diaper Derby, How Far Around, Baby Word Scramble Game, Guess the Number of Jelly Beans in the Baby Bottle, Name That Baby, Diapers of Encouragement, and a lot more.

Those are just some of the games that could add pleasure to the occasion. Make sure your visitors enjoy sharing this memorable time with the mother-to-be and it will surely be fun for everybody.

After all the celebration, you should now allow your guest of honor to open her gifts! You should be prepared to write down who all the gifts came from so the mom can send thank you notes to them.

After the gifts are open, usually guests have some cake, mingle some more and then leave. You might consider having some party favors and prizes available for guests to show your gratitude for attending that occasion. A great idea is mini baby bottles filled with jelly beans or some other inexpensive treat!

In spite of all the preparations made prior to the baby shower, the most important thing to keep in mind is the satisfaction of your visitors. Make them feel that they are part of the occasion and that their presence is much appreciated.

Baby Shower Favors: Ideas And Tips For Making The Right Choice

By Jennifer Adair

Planning a baby shower is an exciting time but it is important that the proper steps are taken to insure that the shower is a success. Enjoying a baby shower is twice the fun because the parents-to-be get to share the excitement and happiness that they feel with their friends and relatives.

A baby shower is actually a type of party that the couple's friends or relatives had prepared. Because it is a party, it entails the gifts, food, and of course the party favors that are usually present in any other party or celebration.

Like any other party, choosing the right baby shower favor can be very tedious especially if it aims to make the event memorable. There are so many baby shower favors that choosing the best can be pretty confusing.

So, for people who wish to know how to choose the right baby shower favor, here are some pointers that can be very handy.

1. Always consider the personality of the mother-to-be when choosing a baby shower favor.

Even if the friends or the relatives are the ones who prepared the invitation, it is still a must to consider the personality of the mother-to-be when choosing baby shower favors.

After all, you would not want to create misunderstanding or misconceptions just because you have chosen baby shower favors that do not fit to the personality of the mother, right?

2. Shop around

It always pays to shop around before deciding on something. This will give you enough time to contemplate and compare which baby shower favor is suitable for the occasion.

Best of all, you get to choose the most affordable, most attractive, and most appropriate baby shower favors available in the market.

3. Use a lot of resources when looking for the best baby shower favors.

Today, there are many available resources where you can find great ideas on baby shower favors.

In print, you can find some great ideas in the magazines and books about baby showers. You can also find some useful ideas in the Internet.

What matters most is that you have plenty of resources where you can get the best baby shower favors for the guests.

4. Ask the other people about some of the ideas used on baby shower favors.

There are people who have already attended baby shower parties, so, their opinions can be a lot of help. You can ask them what kinds of party favors are usually being used in the baby showers or what would they prefer to have on their own baby showers.

5. Consider the baby shower favors that are already tried and tested by a lot of baby shower parties.

These kinds of baby shower favors will be a sure hit even if the personality of the expectant mother had not been considered. This is because for so many events, these kinds of party favors had been appreciated by most people, and the people who will attend on the baby shower will appreciate it, too.

Indeed, baby shower favors can be really tedious but with careful planning and considerations, the baby shower event will turn out to be very memorable because of the favors that the guests have received.

Nothing comes close to ending this wonderful event than to have baby shower favors that would reflect the merrymaking of the delight and joy of all the people who came to celebrate the upcoming arrival of the new baby.
