Plastic Surgeons In Beverly Hills

By Jane Wyvern

Beverly Hills located in western Los Angeles is a part of the "Golden Triangle" along with Holmby

Hills and Bel-Air. It was perhaps made famous by the popular 1990's show 90210 starring Tori Spelling and Shannon Doherty among others.

The architect Wilbur Crook set out the beginnings of the wonderful architectural landscape that is in place now. Along with the palm trees, landmarks such as the Greystone Mansion, Pickfair, the Electric Fountain and La Cienega Park have no doubt attracted several surgeon to set up their practice of rhinoplasty in Beverley Hills. Here are a few names along with a brief account.

Beverly Hills Tummy Tuck

By Dennis Driscoll

Having tummy tuck surgery performed in Beverly Hills is part of the lifestyle of the rich and famous. It's not by coincidence that gorgeous people blanket this city from the Hollywood Bowl to Virginia Robison Gardens. A city that is driven by fame and the overindulgence of its residents, it should not be surprising that Beverly Hills is home of the cre'me de la cre'me of plastic surgeons.

Pick up any copy of People magazine and you will find stars showing off their new breasts. Breast implants are often boasted about among the celebrities and picked up by the media. But there are many other procedures performed in Beverly Hills that are kept a tight secret. One of the many procedures performed regularly at an attempt to stay beautiful and attractive to the whole world is known as the Beverly Hills Tummy Tuck.

A Beverly Hills Tummy Tuck is a procedure to remove excessive fat to the middle or lower abdomen. The tummy tuck or the proper term Adominoplasty dramatically reduces the appearance of a protruding abdomen.

Like most Americans that live a modest lifestyle in any major city the term Protruding Abdomen could be commonly referred to a Beer Gut.

Plastic Surgeons In Beverly Hills

Now this may not be a total and fair judgement of those that may desire this surgery. There are many women who have undergone a C-Section and after giving birth are left with loose skin in the lower abdomen. Having this surgery can and will most likely increase confidence and self esteem.

When I talk about the Beverly Hills Tummy Tuck or any other plastic surgery procedure done with the intent of ones own vanity I am talking about the false beauty being portrayed that influences many of todays youth.

How many eating disorders such as anorexia nervosa or bulimia are the result of pressures from society to look thin and beautiful. I partly blame the media in how it portrays the lifestyle of the rich and famous of Beverly Hills.

I wish people would realize that many celebrities that influence todays youth are beautiful not just because of natural beauty. But because when they loose weight they can afford a personal trainer, and a private chef to cook all their meals for them. When you see them on cameras many have undergone hours upon hours of makeup preparation.

With that said plastic surgery is a part of Beverly Hills just as the Tin Man was to the Wizard Of Oz. Without it the stars would not shine so bright.
