Prayer Takes Many Forms

Book Review -How Did Bible Heroes Pray by Mona Hodgson

Reviewed by Lisa M. Hendey

In her charming new book How Did Bible Heroes Pray (Kregel Kidzone, February 2005, hardcover, 24 pages) author Mona Hodgson helps children explore the concept of prayer and how to integrate it into their own daily lives. Hodgson points to the heroes children may be familiar with in the Bible and shares how each of these special people turned to God in prayer. For each example given, the author cites the relevant scripture passage for further research and edification. As Daniel turned to God on his knees, children are encouraged to pray to God using this posture. As Samuel lay in bed listening to and conversing with God, children are reminded that they too can take quiet time in bed to pray.

Next Hodgson turns to detailing situations when children might feel led to pray. Jonah's fear, Job's sadness and Jesus' need for "alone time" with his father are all situations to which today's child can relate. Reminding ourselves and our children that facing moments of uncertainty or disappointment with prayer is a valuable lesson we can offer our families and students.

This book is geared at children ages five and up, as each page features only a few lines of text. A noteworthy contribution to How Did Bible Heroes Pray is the artwork of illustrator Hollie Gillett, whose delightful illustrations feature a broad cross section of ages and races on a pallet of beautiful backgrounds.

Something that I wanted to share on Prayer that I once read .... especially after reading this "God's Heart is aching."

Prayer lifts heavy loads from our hearts. Prayer gives us courage to go on when the way looks dark. Prayer opens doors and melts hard hearts. Prayer changes lives and wins souls. Prayer brings response from God.

Prayer is not a duty to be performed; it is a privilege to be used and enjoyed. It is the talking over of life's problems with one who has power to solve those problems.

Prayer is an obedience of confidence in God. Prayer is an expression of our conscious need of God. Prayer is an act of obedience. Satan will keep us from praying if he can.

Psalms 34:10 "They that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing."

James 4:3 "Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may spend it in your pleasures."

Jesus went aside to pray. If HE felt a need for talking to God, how much more do we need that strengthening fellowship!

Matthew 7:7, 8 "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you; For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened."
