Pros And Cons Of Buying Used Harley–davidson

By Low Jeremy

Owning a Harley–Davidson entitles you to a great pride. It is like owning a luxury car or owning a private jet. This is why, even if what you are buying is a used Harley, the excitement is still the same. But before closing the deal, here are the pros and cons of buying used Harley–Davidson:

Pros...

- Used Harley Davidsons are cheaper.

Well, resale value of some Harley models can be as high as its original price. But, there are several models that can buy for less. There are several sites online where you can find cheap but high–quality Harley Davidson models.

- Rare Harleys are Used Harleys

Over a hundred years of motorcycle production has produced hundreds of models, some of them are hard to find while most of them are out of the production line. If you are looking for a particular model of a particular year, you can search for used Harley–Davidson for sale.

- Used Harley–Davidsons are well–maintained

Since owning a Harley–Davidson is like owning a luxury car, outmost care is being practiced by most of its owner. Thus, you rarely see an ill–maintained Harley–Davidson on the road. You also cannot see any ill–maintained Harley–Davidson on an auction site or selling site. This is another reason why some models have prices even if they are old.

- Used Harley–Davidson are customized

If you prefer a unique Harley–Davidson, then a used one can come in handy. There are several used Harley–Davidsons that maintain their original look but most owners prefer to modify some parts according to their personality.

Pros And Cons Of Buying Used Harley–davidson

Cons...

- Used Harley–Davidson are customized

This may be an advantage for some but it does not mean that it is not a disadvantage. Since, most owners would want to infuse a little of their personality to their Harley–Davidson, the next owner will inherit what has been changed on the motorcycle. Unless you want to buy used Harley–Davidson regardless of the modifications that have been made, you may have difficulty to give it some of your personal touch. And sometimes, you are paying for the accessories that you really don't need.

- Some used Harley–Davidsons motorcycles are expensive

Cheap Harley–Davidson can be hard to find. Unlike used cars, some used Harley–Davidson motorcycles are expensive. In fact, rare models are more expensive than other newer models. But don't be discouraged; there are several models that are less expensive than others.

The History Of The Legendary Harley Davidson Motorcycles

By Joe Goertz

Harley Davidson is a famous brand of motorcycles, and it all started back in 1901 when a young man by the name of William Harley crafted a blueprint of an engine that would fit onto a bicycle.

In 1903 the very first Harley Davidson motorcycles were made available to the public when William Harley and his friend Arthur Davidson produced one built as a racing motorcycle. It was purchased by one of their childhood school friends, Henry Meyer. During this time, the Harley Davidson production plant was nothing more than a crude wooden shed with the words "Harley Davidson Motor Company" scratched across the front door.

1905 was an important year for Harley Davidson, as they hired their first full time employee and one of their motorcycles won a race in Chicago, putting them on the map in a sense. Years and years go by, and the 1950's find Harley Davidson's winning races, being featured on magazine covers with Elvis Presley, and becoming a household name among race and motorcycle enthusiasts everywhere.

In 1983 the Harley Owners Group was formed, and was referred to as H.O.G. It became the largest motorcycle club in the world to be sponsored by a factory. In a mere six years, the club had grown to include more than 90,000 members. In 1987, Harley Davidson became listed on the New York Stock Exchange, and owners everywhere realized what a wise investment they had made!

Pros And Cons Of Buying Used Harley–davidson

More years pass, with Harley Davidson inventing new motorcycles on a regular basis, winning more races, and selling more motorcycles than any other manufacturer. In 2006, Harley Davidson appointed the first authorized dealer of their motorcycles in China.

Today, Harley Davidson produces a wide variety of motorcycles that come in all different styles, shapes and colors. Harley Davidson not only makes recreational and sport racing motorcycles, they also make touring bikes. The Ultra Classic Electra Glide is the king daddy of them all, loaded with extra features and offering the ultimate in comfort. It even comes with an advanced audio system!

While Harley Davidson is most well known for their motorcycles, they also produce a full line of accessories to compliment their motorcycles. Some of the available accessories include sidecars, saddlebags and pouches, chrome covers, windshields, seats, mirrors, backrests, hand controls and sissy bars.

They also make a full line of clothing including leather goods, warm, cold and wet weather gear, helmets, gloves, jackets, vests, shirts, pants, boots, eyewear, as well as racing attire. Their clothing accessory line is available in a wide range of sizes for men and women, as well as children.

If you are in the market to buy a Harley Davidson, you'll be able to find one no matter where you are in the world. Harley Davidson has dealerships in over 60 countries, and as a company employs more than 9,000 people.
