Silent Bond of Trust by Kathryn Lim

Silent Bond of Trust

When I got myself messed up and tangled
You silently offered your prayers for me

When I feel broken down
You offered me a "shawl" that I could lean on

When I face challenges and the hard bricks of life
You stood beside me and cheered at the potential growth you see within

When I am not at my best and hit rock bottom
You continue to see perfection in me

When I walk through the shadow of the valley of death
You are right there with me

There is nothing I can say but to silently acknowledge your love and wish that God will pour his blessings upon you in folds that even the sky and ocean cannot fathom

3 Secret Selling Blueprints! by Larry Dotson

1. Allow your prospects imagine you both have a strong bond. A powerful way to bond with your prospects is to tell them a secret in your ad copy. Tell them the only people who are learning the secret are the people who read the ad. This will make them feel like they're included in a special group of people. When you tell people a secret, it makes them feel important and creates a strong bond. It will also create trust and rapport. Example: Please don't let anyone know I'm releasing this top secret information to you...

2. Have your prospects to imagine that you believe in them. People want other people to believe in them. You should write your ad copy in a way that shows you believe in your prospects to solve their own problems. Example: I know you have the courage to change your life using our product.

3. Allow your prospects imagine that you're leading them to a better life. Most people like to be lead. They often choose to be followers rather than leaders. That is why it is important to use action commands in your ad copy. Your copy words must become the leader to get them to take action. Examples of action commands: Order Now! Improve Your Business!
