SEO Style, a search engine optimization and Internet marketing company, today announced a 10% discount deal for search engine optimization services. Once a year all new clients are offered a beneficial opportunity to use proficient SEO services at a discount price to be confident in their search engine optimization provider choice.

Sarasota, FL, August 2, 2004 - SEO Style, a search engine optimization and Internet marketing company, today announced a once-a-year 10% discount prices for search engine optimization services. It gives prospects for both parties: new clients for the company and budget saving services for new clients.

The urge for search engine optimization services is escalating rapidly. Quality and sensible prices are of paramount importance for SEO services seekers.

The regional analysis department has conducted a research on number of websites providing search engine optimization services. This research was restricted to prices suggested. The picture is clear enough but here is a question. Are the prices final, with no hidden cost revealed? What all potential customers always wish to know upfront, yet rarely find without searching, asking and digging out is price. An everlasting question.

Perhaps, the statistical investigation will throw a light on this question. It was verified that the prices vary from $400 to $3500 and up (more up!) depending on your site specifications. An economical search engine optimization package is offered by SEO-guy.com for $999. SEOimage.com boasts his "affordable" solution at $3500. Stop! Small and medium sites are excluded. Avwebdivisions.com is a little bit raising hopes in our affordable SEO searchers' breasts: get your SEO services from $1500 to $3000. Fullpromote.com offers an advanced package with auto and manual submissions, ranking reports, website optimization and keyword overview plus 24/7/365 support for $399. Taking into consideration the above-mentioned prices, a suspicious thought about hidden costs creeps to mind.
