

This Free E-Book is brought to you by Natural-Aging.com.

100% Effective Natural Hormone Treatment
Menopause, Andropause And Other Hormone Imbalances
Impair Healthy Healing In People Over The Age Of 30!

Sports Views for November

By Leigh Douglas

Sports Views for November

by: Leigh Douglas

Baseball season is finally over. Would anyone really complain if they cut about 12 games off the season (is 150 not enough?). Now at least we wont have to hear about the curse, now we just have to take care of that goat and all will be well.

Is there really any doubt that Carlos Beltran is going to wind up a Yankee? He has gone from being one of the most underappreciated players in the game with the Royals, to having one of the greatest postseason performances. That one series against the Cardinals might have earned him the difference between a 10 to 12 mil a year to now a 16 to 18 mil a year.

It is about time to squash any and all talk of a quarterback controversy in Cincinnati. The Bengals are not a contender, not yet at least. Why not let Carson Palmer play now, take his lumps now, so that in a year or two when the whole team is in a position to contend so will he. What good will playing Jon Kitna really do for the Bengals, at best he may be the difference between a 6-10 and an 8-8 season. Either way long term playing Palmer now is the best move for the Bengals, and I applaud Marvin Lewis for the foresight, and the courage to make such a move despite all the criticism.

Does anyone really miss the NHL?

If Jason White won the Hiesman last year, and now this year Adrian Peterson is the best player on the same team as White, how is Peterson not the favorite to win the Hiesman?

Over/Under for the upcoming NBA season:

1 week-Before Kobe is crying to the press, and finding a new scapegoat for the Lakers struggles

1 month-Before the breakup of the Blazers

1 game-Before Yao Ming starts to back off and lets McGrady take over the team

2 weeks-Before Isaiah Thomas makes his first trade

Sports Views for November

- 6 weeks—Before Baron Davis gets hurt
- 3 quarters—Before Ron Artest gets a technical foul
- 2 games —Before Antoine Walker attempts his 50th field goal
- 2 months —Before Shaq subtlety points out to the media that Miami is winning, and the Lakers arent

NFL Midseason Rankings:

- 1Eagles7–0As injuries pile up so go their chances at staying unbeaten
- 2Steelers6–1Can they keep this up? Is Ben setting the bar too high?
- 3Patriots6–1Come playoff time will still be team to beat
- 4Jets6–1Are playing over their heads, schedule has helped a lot
- 5Jaguars5–3Cardiac cats are beating some quality teams
- 6Giants5–2So much for a QB controversy
- 7Vikings5–2Return of Onterio and Moss will help wake up offense
- 8Falcons6–2A 6–3 win over the cards shouldnt count as a win

- 9Broncos5–3Are a playoff team, but just that, nothing more
- 10Chargers5–3How is Brees not most improved(comeback)player this year?
- 11Ravens4–3If they get healthy no one will want to play them come playoff time
- 12Colts4–3Still have to respect that offense, but its time to address the D
- 13Rams4–3Hasnt Martz time ran out yet?
- 14Seahawks4–3Word best to describe the Seahawks : underachievers
- 15Texans4–3Can no longer be taken lightly
- 16Lions4–3Are well on their way to respectability
- 17Packers4–4Their defense(especially their secondary) is killing them
- 18Chiefs3–4Must be regretting not addressing the defense in the off season
- 19Titans3–5Annual roster defections are finally catching up
- 20Saints3–4Will Hasslett be first coach fired?
- 21Browns3–4Davis should be first coach fired?
- 22Cowboys3–4Will soon find out about Drew Hanson
- 23Bengals2–5They arent really looking to this year anyways
- 24Bills2–5Mistakes always seem to cost them
- 25Redskins2–6Can we still blame Spurrier?
- 26Cardinals2–5There may be a light at the end of the tunnel
- 27Buccaners2–5At this rate, Grudens head is likely to explode by week 14
- 28Panthers1–6Have injuries cost any other team more?
- 29Raiders2–6Are getting bad as fast as they are getting old
- 30Bears2–5Krentzel & Quinn, there has to be other options
- 3149ers1–6Already losing, and now without Julian Pederson
- 32Dolphins1–7Would Ricky have even made a difference ?

Leigh Douglas is the sports editor of T.E.N Magazine, a social commentary magazine with balls! Check out more articles at

.

To the Citizens of Kansas

By Gary R. Hess

To the Citizens of Kansas by Gary R. Hess

This coming election is far more important to the way our country is run than any other over the past decade. The focus of the media has mainly been on the most important of the races, the Presidential; however house and senate members are being voted on as well.

This election may either make or break the Democrats. They may lose the Senate as well as lose more seats in the house or gain seats in the Senate and Reps. If the latter is the case, many great things will happen for the party. The course of the country could very well change and the economy be put back on track. In the other case, which seems to be more likely since the last redistricting was under Republican control, the Democrats will not be able to get anything accomplished. Their bills will be filibustered and their say in both houses will be diminished if at all even present.

Kansas shows a bright spot in all the madness surrounding the party. In the Second District Rep. Jim Ryun's seat is in trouble. A lady by the name of Nancy Boyda is putting a fight for the position. She broke several records for funds by a Democrat in the second district. Her views are that of a Moderate Democrat however she is viewed as having great values and will respect and listen to the voters of the state.

Her opponent, Jim Ryun, has been in the House of Representatives too long. His views are disrespectful to Kansas as well as many throughout the United States. Even though Kansas shot down a State Constitutional Amendment banning Gay Marriage by a great margin, he voted in favor of a U.S. Constitutional Amendment going against the people of Kansas.

This however is not the only reason why Congressman Ryun should be voted out of the House of Representatives in November. I have personally contacted Rep. Ryun several times and have yet to receive a legitimate response. He ignores the citizens of Kansas and United States.

Citizens of Kansas, let's get a new Representative in Congress. Vote for Nancy Boyda in November.

Gary R. Hess is a writer and web designer for garyr_h@yahoo.com

Related Content:

Read more Content at

Related Products:

: A genuine resource center for Quality Ebooks and Softwares

This Free E-Book has been brought to you by Natural-Aging.com.

100% Effective Natural Hormone Treatment
Menopause, Andropause And Other Hormone Imbalances
Impair Healthy Healing In People Over The Age Of 30!