The Big Secret Of Ameriplan USA

By Sam Bennani

The Big Secret Of Ameriplan USA by Sam Bennani

You requested some information on a solid homebased business opportunity.

If you are serious about generating an extra income, I think you will benefit a great deal from the information I'm about to share with you today.

We work with a company that helps people afford the high cost of quality healthcare, and we are looking for sharp, ambitious people who want to make a difference in their lives and the lives of others.

You will earn immediate daily income while you build a lifetime vested monthly income, no inventory, no products to sale, free training, free health care, benefits, free broker benefits, great overrides and bonuses, huge tax breaks, total support system, and work your own schedule.

Unlike many other home based businesses, broker commissions are not dependent on how much "product" is purchased by me or my clients each month. As a broker, I don't have to hound my clients to try pills, lotions, or formulas, which they don't really want. I don't have to call them back every month to get them to buy more. They simply get great health related benefits for a low monthly rate.

You don't need sales experience to start this business nor license. I found that it was easy for me to talk to people about Ameriplan simply because I truly believe in the value of this service. It doesn't take hype, high pressure, or "salesmanship" to succeed in this business. All you really need is honesty, a good work ethic, and a desire to help others save money or make money.

Dorothy if you're trading the best hours, days, and years of your life for a pay check – it's time to change that.

It's as simple as ... A ... B ... C ...

Ameriplan Consumer Protection Starts with the Phone!

By Tim Merrell, the Dental Guy

As more and more big companies, school districts and other municipals are forced to cut healthcare and retirement benefits, it will be up to the consumer to find cost cutting measures. This is one of the reasons that Consumer Driven Healthcare like Ameriplan is experiencing a huge growth market.

If your car has a problem, you call different auto repair shops and compare prices regarding the problem. However, many people don't call about their dental costs, or doctor's expenses, because they assume all healthcare prices are set by some standard. Not True! Doctors set their own prices. However, Ameriplan, a company in business since 1992, is helping consumers obtain cost savings on health and dental procedures.

Most insurance dental plans have a cap of $1000.00 per year, and today, that won't even cover a root canal. Outlined in this updated 2005 document, at you can see where traditional dental insurance is lacking. This problem with current dental insurance is another reason people turn to AmeriplanUSA. Ameriplan has no waiting periods.

Dentists and doctors do not publish their prices, and they charge a higher rate for those with no coverage. If you don't believe me, pick up the best selling book called The New Health Insurance Solution. In this book the best selling author, Paul Zane Pilzer, writes on page 8, that doctors typically charge from 150 to 500 percent more for uninsured clients. Ameriplan is not insurance, but it does give you the purchasing power of discounted rates offered to insured clients, but at a much lower monthly rate than traditional insurance.

We as consumers need to push for legislation to make price comparisons easier for the consumer. Just calling and asking "How much is an office visit" may not get you the correct answer, because as in the Dental Code examples below, these two items are both office visits. To compare actual prices, one needs to use the Dental Procedure Codes. That's why we need legislation. These codes are not available to the general public.

D0140 Limited Oral Evaluation

After days of research and my wife, Gina's web know how, I found common dental procedure codes. We listed them at and you can use them to compare your dental costs today.
