The Commander in Chief's Bold Surprise Iraq Visit: Happy Thanksgiving !

The Commander in Chief's Bold Surprise Iraq Visit: Happy Thanksgiving ! by J.R.

President Bush stunned his critics, the troops and indeed the world, when he flew into Baghdad International Airport on Thanksgiving Day. The President, who was visibly emotional, received a standing ovation from the troops, who were obviously ecstatic by the surprise visit. What a great morale booster for the troops, and indeed, America.

This, my friends, is the mark of a true leader ! A man who has compassion about his convictions, a man who when speaking to Troops wherever he goes is truly emotional, because he means what he says and shows it. The President cares about and supports the United States military and they love and support him as well.

The liberals can't stand this. The main stream news media is already whining and sniveling that they were lied to (boy what a change, it's usually the other way around) and misled, this will lead to a precedent, etc.,etc., blah,blah,blah.

The troops all across Iraq could not have been happier. The comments of the troops showed their admiration for the President. "That is absolutely awesome", "I think that shows real personal courage", "This is definitely a good move for morale", " It makes us feel better that our leader is actually here with us on a holiday", " I think this is a great move", " It sends a strong message from the commander in chief that we're focused on winning ", "It's a real morale booster", "It's a total morale booster", "I didn't get to see him but what matters is that he cares enough to come and visit".

Imagine that. Do you think you would have heard those comments about Clinton. Senator Hillary Clinton was visiting the troops in Afghanistan where they seemed much more impressed with the holiday meal than with her.

Thank You Mr. President for taking time with our troops during a very important American holiday, one that was established to celebrate and remember our blessings. Let us never forget that Americans fought and died to preserve that freedom. Let us never forget that freedom is not FREE, and let us never forget that the enemies of the United States of America will not stop in their relentless pursuit of the destruction of those freedoms unless we are a strong and committed nation. Committed to the safety and security of our nation and her allies, committed to the causes and supporters of freedom.

I thank god for the leadership and wisdom of our Commander in Chief, President George W. Bush, a true compassionate leader, guided by christian principles, moral values and integrity. Our nation is much better off, for this reason.

Thankfulness In Times Of Trouble

By Rose DesRochers

Thanksgiving is a time for food celebration and fun. Every year on Thanksgiving, families gather around the table to enjoy a meal and give thanks. But for some folks, Thanksgiving can be a lonely time. Many adults spend the holidays feeling isolated and depressed. In the wake of Katrina's aftermath, this will be the first holiday for many without relatives and friends. In addition many families may be experiencing financial strains.

Today as we celebrate this Thanksgiving, it is important to remember that it's about more than being thankful for one day, it is an entire lifetime. Today is the day to be thankful for all the things in your life, no matter how big they are, or how small. Even in our deepest sorrow, we can find things to be thankful for.

Holidays bring out emotional pain. This time of year can be difficult for any one who has suffered a loss. Should you be missing loved ones this holiday, rejoice in the knowledge that they are with God. Don't push yourself today; allow yourself that time to grieve.

For those who may be feeling depressed this Thanksgiving holiday, open your heart to giving. Helping other people in need is a wonderful way to celebrate the day and may make you feel less alone. Check out communities in your area that may need volunteers during the holidays– example soup kitchens, shelters, hospitals or reach out to your local church.

Life is full of unexpected changes. Death is very much apart of life. Whatever you do today, don't cover up your feelings of depression and isolation. Own up to those feelings and know that you're not alone. Somewhere today, someone is feeling the same way that you are.

Today on this Thanksgiving Day please remember, though the harvest might not always be plentiful, family and friends may be few, God has given us each a great deal to be thankful for. My experience is that, it is much easier to thank God for our blessing than to find a way to be thankful in the midst of our troubles.

I'm thankful that I have the strength to meet the challenges that come with life. I'm thankful for each memory that family and friends have given me. I'm thankful for having a profound understanding that it is more important to give than to receive. This Thanksgiving I have much to be thankful for.

Not what we say about our blessings, but how we use them, is the true measure of our thanksgiving.
~W.T. Purkiser

Today be thankful for what you have to give, not just what you have received.

Happy Thanksgiving.
