The Journey by Josh Hinds

The Journey – While aimlessly waiting for their so-called SHIP to come in and change their life for the better, far too many people miss the boat that could actually carry them to a brighter future.

They are often so afraid of testing new waters that they spend an entire lifetime waiting on the shore...

My friend, don't let this describe you. If it does, take heart, because at this very moment you can make a conscious decision to start getting the most out of your life's journey! But you must take action, and truly commit to living more fully. Really put action behind your new plan. Make it more than just words. Make it real... To your success, Josh Hinds

Going far, doing great... by Harish Dhingra

In this article I am not taking you far but your thoughts. It's all about a journey of thoughts. Your concentration is ticket for this journey.

Now all of us will ride for our Mission called success. Just hold your thoughts and smile. We will go faster and so far.

The Journey

Completion of this journey totally depends on your thoughts. You shape your thoughts and you paint your thoughts. Now you get a new color image of your dreams.

Coloring your dreams is not enough to get them. Now start working on them. You have to make them a reality. Just put your brain and heart to achieve them. Learn to stand, whenever and wherever you fall. Falling is not must but standing needs desire and you have it.

Just look at sun and then within you if you need energy. Sun daily comes for you and you work daily. Both of you belong to nature. Sun is also scared of clouds but always defeats them to retain his identity. If he can, so you can do this too.

Let's go far...we are already getting late...

Wish you happy journey :)

I am 25 year old guy from India. I can almost write about any of the topic. I am exploring new markets to make some money. Please give me your feedback and suggestions for it. You can contact me at innovativegemini@yahoo.com. Thanks in advance.
