

True or False? A Crash– appraisal of the American logic in the War on Iraq

This Free E–Book is brought to you by Natural–Aging.com.

100% Effective Natural Hormone Treatment
Menopause, Andropause And Other Hormone Imbalances
Impair Healthy Healing In People Over The Age Of 30!

True or False? A Crash– appraisal of the American logic in the War on Iraq

By Nevine Al Seidi

True or False? A Crash– appraisal of the American logic in the War on Iraq by Nevine Al

Seidi

Before I start delivering my views to you on the subject of the war in Iraq, I would like to confirm that the word "American" is used here in the sense of the American administration and policy, not in the sense of the nation and its people.

Many complicated arguments took place recently discussing the legitimacy of waging war by the "Land of Freedom" on the "Land of Abraham". Many innocent citizens of the world seem to buy into obvious fallacies. Please allow me to (storm–brain) you for the reality of this war with very basic True or False questions.

The reason for America crossing a few continents and seas with its super impressive missiles to seize a foreign country and change its government is an act of kindness meant to free the Iraqi people from their dictator ruler. What do you think? To help you marking this as "True" or False", I will ask you a few questions here. Who has the right to label a ruler a dictator, a foreign ruler or his own people? Has any one authority a right to displace a ruler of a foreign country even by asking him (verbally) to leave his home in 48 hours?

Can a war costing trillions of dollars and hundreds of American and British lives be a justified price for the head of any "foreign" ruler?

Another reason for bombing a country three continents away is to rid its neighbours from its malicious threat using "total–destruction" weapons "in case" that country decides to go to war. That ethicality might be anything but "foreign" to the American mind. Yet, it can only be a valid argument if America is planning to "become" a neighbour. Don't you think? And perhaps, America is more qualified to know the interest of the neighbours more than they themselves do. Right? Did I forget to ask whether Israel is probably a neighbour? With the same "total–destruction" weapons? But Israel has a sole right to own certain missiles it might need to defend itself with in case the terrorists–nationals ask for their land back. Almost forgot!

True or False? A Crash– appraisal of the American logic in the War on Iraq

Another reason for America to rip Iraq and shred it is to search for weapons UN inspectors failed to find. Should we assume that American troops are not fighters but Phd holders of some occult tradition? Should we assume that America is an authority above the UN and therefore in a position to "correct" what goes wrong with the UN efficiency? More reasonable, let us think that the CIA has very valid confidential info that Saddam Hussein has Anthrax pre–packed in his palatial fridges and chemical heads stuffed in his republican "Dictator size" mattresses. But why would not America enlighten the UN inspectors with its genius findings?

In the American struggle against terrorism, Hussein's head had to be chopped suey. Well, taking into consideration that the new findings pertaining to the aggressors in the WTC incident confirm that Hussein was Bin Ladden's " left" hand, and that Iraq which is in fact the only secular' regime in the Arab world, must be suspect number one in "radical' terrorism, this could be a very reasonable reason. True?

America , as a super power, has a responsibility to make the world a safer and happier place for all. This is the easiest question to answer! Yes, you cannot go wrong here. What a happier world we are going to have without the United Nations ? With a few million Iraqis less Iraq lost 1.5 million lives because of war and sanctions already)? With funerals in British and American homes? With a stagnant world economy? With fear of travel? With gluing our tearful eyes to TV screens parading loss of life and total destruction?

Since you have gone that far marking the above statements as True or False, you might like to answer this one question about the American Intelligence Quotient. Kill for the dollar is the American dream coming true. That one must be..well.. very TRUE.Or why else are the troops so anxious to save oil fields with minefields – pun truly intended!

An Egyptian writer and poet who works in English.

No, Thank You! America, Go Home!

By Nevine A. Al Seidi

No, Thank You! America, Go Home! by Nevine A. Al Seidi

No, Thank You! America, Go Home!

Nevine A. Al Seidi

America waged war on Afganistan for the head of one man, Osama Bin Laden and his radical group, Al Qaeda (Arabic for the base). To date, Mr. Bin Laden is alive somewhere on the planet, Islam is still the No. One enemy to the American policy in the Middle East, and the bases' are dozens upon dozens worldwide. What America accomplished was the destruction of the country, wasting American money and life in a Don Quixotic coup of false patriotism. We do not even know for sure that Osama Bin Laden was the man behind all this, despite all the simplistic claims and video tapes.

True or False? A Crash– appraisal of the American logic in the War on Iraq

Iraq, the only Arab secular' regime is facing an unheard–of atrocious hostility from conspiracy' forces supporting the US that is devoting 75 billion American dollars, for the head of Mr. Saddam Hussein. In what way is Iraq threatening the US? And what has the US got to do with a so–called dictator of a foreign country? What is America "freeing' Iraq from? All Iraqis, opposition included, and the whole Arab world takes American war on Iraq as an imperialistic adventure that is shockingly unethical bordering on the farcical. And when America is claiming to protect the neighbours of Iraq from its potential evil, the neighbours', namely Iran and Kuwait are feverishly opposing war on Iraq.

In my opinion, the greatest mistake of the American mindset these days is not much its lack of ethicality as its ridiculous ignorance of others' mindset. How much does America know about Iraqi culture and ideology to decide on this wacko adventure? As an Egyptian citizen, I can assure you that the same attack on a country like Egypt would have ended by now with the American flag on Cheops Pyramid. But not Iraq! All Iraqis are Saddams; trust me on this one! Saddam's problem with his own people started by him declaring Iraq a secular' country, something no other Arab leader dares do. Most Arab leaders are dictators. Why is America not bothered with them?

America is bribing' and terrorizing' nations worldwide to join forces with it shredding Iraq and destroying it, promising to rebuild it using Iraqi money! Purely ridiculous. Iraqis, I mean Iraqi citizens not army, will never allow Americans to take over their country. Had the American administration spent some time doing its homework, it would have figured that one out all by itself. Iraq, is not just another rich Arab country. It is the cradle of the Arabic cultural lore (read courage and honour here), the generator of Arabic scientists (read genetic genius), and the birth place of the Arabs' ancestor , Prophet Abraham (read Jihad). Iraq, like Palestine is a sacred land to all of us, Arabs. We will never allow a foreign country, to tamper with our roots, our history, our pride for some fictitious reasons like the dictatorship of one of our men, or for harbouring' lethal weapons allowed by the Israeli occupation!

If America is fighting Iraq for us, its neighbours, we are saying clear and loud: No, thank you! If it is trying to free the Iraqi people from its dictator leader by bombing them, we advise : America, go home!

Born in Alexandria, Egypt in 1961, Al Seidi obtained her degree in English Literature from the University of Alexandria in 1983. After traveling the world, sampling two ways of life and been there, she is writing it all. Published in several anthologies as a poet in the US, Al Seidi is a voice of an Arab womantalking to us from the heart of the desert in a tongue we understand.

True or False? A Crash– appraisal of the American logic in the War on Iraq

This Free E–Book has been brought to you by Natural–Aging.com.

100% Effective Natural Hormone Treatment
Menopause, Andropause And Other Hormone Imbalances
Impair Healthy Healing In People Over The Age Of 30!