Unbiased Abortion Faqs

By Jamie Snodgrass

The topic of abortion is extremely controversial and has received a great deal of media coverage regarding the legality, morality, and constitutionality of the topic. There are a phenomenal number of groups and organizations in existence that are willing to provide their version of abortion facts, but take great care when seeking information on abortion. Many of these organizations or groups put a certain spin on information or only present part of the information in order to show their stance in the most positive light. Depending on the specific stance of the group or organization at hand, either pro choice or pro life, the information can potentially be widely skewed and you will not have the necessary understanding of the argument or the procedure. If you are a woman faced with an unwanted pregnancy and wish to seek out all potential options that are available to you or if you are an individual who wishes to learn more about the topic of abortion before you form your own opinions, be sure to seek out information from unbiased sources.

In a topic as complex and widely discussed as abortion, there are few outlets that offer truly unbiased abortion facts. This is mainly because the topic is highly fueled with a number of factors, including religious and moral ones, that can influence your way of thinking. Try to find unbiased sources that are legitimate and trust worthy. Most news organizations are capable of presenting news or current events issues in an unbiased light, so these outlets are a great source of information. However, that being said, many media outlets are run by groups with pro life or pro choice agendas, so the information presented is biased and should not be trusted without first learning the counterpoint.

The best way to attain information about abortion is to hear from both sides of the argument. Both the pro life and the pro choice sides have a great many organizations that regularly provide a great deal of information and other abortion facts. By learning about both sides of the argument, you will be better able to form your own opinions and make your own choices.

Choose Life: Abortion Stops A Beating Heart

By Rose DesRochers

I believe in the right to life. I believe that there is a human life forming from the moment of conception. I believe anyone who allows or has an abortion is denying the right to life. Abortion is wrong. The Lord has said, "You shall not murder," (Exodus 33:13). The life that is growing within the mother is a child, a baby.

There is an entire life forming inside the womb. The woman does have a right; she has a right to conceive. However once she has conceived, then it is now a separate life. The woman then has the right to parent the child or place it for adoption. She should not be given the right to kill it.

Unbiased Abortion Faqs

If abortion is not wrong, if the baby inside of a woman is not a baby why does a woman who has had an abortion grieve afterwards. She is grieving for the loss of life, the baby that she aborted. Abortion not only harms the human being inside of the woman but the woman herself.

Why can society not help a woman through this difficult time by giving her alternatives for the life she is carrying inside of her? Why is it ok for our Government to pass a law that determines life is worthless? The fetus is human and if not aborted will grow to be a fully functioning adult if given the right to life. How immortal society has become. People are the only ones who kill their young while still unborn.

That human being inside of a woman who can not speak for themselves has a right to be born. No one has a right to kill a human being, so why are we allowing the killing of a human being who is developing with potential. It is unmoral to kill another human being to spare yourself of an inconvenience brought on by your own actions. Because the fetus is human, if left to live, it will result in the birth of a human baby. Where does the mother get the right to kill the human within her? Abortion puts the Woman's personal interests and comfort above the value of life of the human being inside of her.

1. Murder: unlawful premeditated killing of a human being by a human being
2. Embryo.: developing human organism from 4 days after fertilization to the end of the eight week.
3. Fetus Unborn baby; from about seven to eight weeks of development until birth. Prior to that time considered an embryo.
4. Killing To deprive of life
5. Murder: The unlawful killing of one human by another

Therefore killing a fetus is murder. The baby is a growing, living human right from the earliest stage. From the moment of conception. What does the bible say? The Bible clearly identifies the unborn baby as a living, human being.

Choose life abortion stops a beating heart.
