99% of men are not satisfied with their penis. That 1% are a pretty rare breed. It's also a proven fact that women find bigger penises more satisfying. With statistics like that who can blame men wanting to take action? Thomas Bland tells us his story.....

"Being at lad at university is a pretty tough job, in fact being a student is full stop. The drinking, clubbing, girls-enough to wear the healthiest lad out. I was 20 when I was about to start my third year at Cardiff University, studying Media- to all I seemed to have the world at my door. Being a virgin was my only problem, well frustration really, in fact it was a major frustration"

"It's not the fact that I am ugly and repulsive- well I don't think I am, at least I've never been told I am. The fact is that I lacked serious confidence, now that I have been told before. I lacked faith in myself and in my ability to perform."

"I am 5'10" - which isn't extremely tall or small, just average. But I was never satisfied with my penis size. However I looked at it, I just simply wasn't satisfied with it- I would go as far as to say I was really embarrassed."

"I wasn't like your normal 13 year old- measuring yourself at every chance to check out that all important growth. I didn't need to- I knew all too well- there simply wasn't any at all."

"By the time I was about to start my 3rd year at Uni. I decided enough was enough. University is meant to be the time of your life- opportunities that simply couldn't be passed up whatever the situation. Where you achieve anything- but I hadn't achieved anything of such yet and it was becoming more and more of a problem, especially in the bedroom department. Now don't get me wrong I have kissed girls- loads in fact and done other deeds to pleasure them with miraculous results, but everytime things went a bit further and action began happening downstairs I'd find myself panicking and running a mile. I'd simply make my excuses and get of there- quick. By this time my confidence was so low I was beginning to feel like a freak, so I decided the only way forward was to take action."

"The problem was I simply didn't know where to start. I began to conduct some research into penis and enlargement and began to get fairly freaked out by the results. At first Corrective Surgery looked like the only available option. But I hit dead ends– the surgery was only available outside the UK as far as I could see and was also very expensive– I was in no position to pay for this, I was up to my eyes in debt and my student loan had been drunk down the local along time ago. The recovery period also seemed very long– which I couldn't deal with– I needed to be up on my feet as soon as possible. Using weights were another method I also came across– but they looked so painful and the damage done seemed to be more apparent than the good done. It simply just wasn't natural– at all."

"I was just about to give up when I came across the ProSolution Pill System. They simply enlarge your penis in a natural tried and tested formula– It seemed simple– impossible?"

"For my money I received a complete guide of everything that I needed to know to carry out the system included with their "free optional exercises" was the ProSolution capsules. The entire system was really easy to follow and to STICK TO."

"After I'd completed a few weeks I actually measured my penis for the first time ever– I was shocked at the improvement– I had gained at least 1/2 an inch. But the most important difference was the girth– my penis simply looked thicker and more healthy– I simply couldn't believe it– it was this early progress that kept me going. The results have been fantastic. By the time I had completed the pills the improvements to my penis were fantastic– and more than I could ever have wished for. As it stands I think I have gained 2.7 inches in length and the thickness of my penis has improved by 1.5 inches. "

"I would recommend their system to everyone. The programme has changed my life around. 2 years on I have now just got engaged to the love of my life– I am so happy– with my sex life and myself."

"Anyone who has doubts about themselves should invest– I'm telling you– it's well worth it!"

Coping With Having a Small Penis

By Jonas Swensson

If I meet an angry man, somebody who is truly angry without a reason, I often wonder if the cause might be something as simple as small penis size.

I off course talk from experience of growing up with a tiny (as I discuss in my small penis size website), and I was angry about it. I was angry towards god, I was angry towards my parents, I was angry towards the world.

University Lad Penis Size

Think about it, this is what makes us men. This is what differences us from women. And the bigger the penis is, the more of a man we consider us to be.

Even if this is not conscious, this is underlying reality we have. Least for men who have small penis, like I did.

But the real problem is not having a tiny. The real problem is having low self worth. The lesson we were given to learn when we were given a small penis was to face our lack of self worth. We have to learn to base our self worth on our self as a person, as a human bean, not on how much money we make, how beautiful of a partner we have, how big of a house, or car, or our penis size.

We are not angry because we have a small penis. We are angry because we feel impotent. We feel less than other.

Before I managed to make my penis bigger by using some exercises, and self-hypnosis (see my penis size solutions), I started to face my low self worth. Before I saw any real changes in penis size, I saw changes in my social live.

Women I would have been afraid to talk to approach me. Situations where I would have been angry and hostile became happy and joyful. Not because my penis grew, but because my self worth grew.

I didn't have to be angry, because I didn't feel as impotent. I didn't have to be shameful about my self, because my self worth was not based on my penis, but my character, me being part of the human race.

Enlarging my penis only seemed like a bonus. It was like living in a low class block, but being happy there. You don't have to move to a big house to be happy, but if you do your live might become even better. And I managed to make my small penis bigger, but first I became happy ;-).

This is the attitude you have to have about enlarging your penis. If you think big penis size is going to make you happy, then you are basing your self worth on your penis, but not your self. Get happy first, and then enlarge your penis.

Jonas Swensson managed to enlarge his small penis, but better also enlarge his self worth, and happy attitude. Without claiming to be an expert, he has helped many men to do the same through his website
