Question: Do you know what a mentor is? According to the dictionary, a mentor is "a wise and trusted counselor or teacher."

The key word here is "trust." But who can you trust on the Internet these days? There are so many scams and rip-offs, who in the world can you trust?

Well, believe it or not, not everyone and everything on the Internet is a rip-off. There are plenty of individuals on the Internet who have worked extremely hard to achieve reputations that are beyond reproach.

These individuals are helping thousands of people every day, and making plenty of money honestly—without ripping people off, and have already arrived at the destination you want to be. Would you like to join them? You can. How?

Go to Google and type in the words "Internet marketing expert". Carefully peruse the results pages. When you find an Internet marketing expert you like, check him out carefully to make sure he's not a scam artist.

Once you're satisfied he's legitimate, buy his products, subscribe to his newsletters, join his affiliate programs—do whatever you have to do to work as closely with your mentor as possible.

That's the safest and best way to learn what you need to know, and achieve your goal of making money on the Internet!

The Importance of a Mentor

By Troy Arden

When I first started this long but exciting home business journey I didn't know which way was up. I had so many questions and absolutely zero answers. Where do I start? More important was how do I start? What to do, how to do it, where to look, what to look for and so forth. To be honest, I was lost.

Then came along my mentor. She helped me every step of the way. I was coached on what to start off with and how to go about doing it. Step by step my mentor tutored me so my business could get off the ground and start rolling. Without her I would be nowhere near where I am today.

My advice to all new home business entrepreneurs is to get a mentor. Things will run a lot smoother and you won't be left shaking your head.
