Viral Traffic Techniques – Multiple streams of Traffic: PART III

Viral traffic is the simplest way to get increased traffic flow to your site and your affiliate programs. Once you get it kick-started, the amount of traffic that viral marketing methods can produce is quite staggering. Two of the more common (and more successful) methods are give-aways and affiliate programs.

Give-aways are an incredibly effective way to drive traffic to your sites. The most common form of give-away are ebooks. Essentially what you do is create an ebook with links back to your site (or affiliate programs), and give it away to people. The goal is for them to in turn give it away to others and so on.

I'm sure you can see that what we are talking about is the age old pyramid. Give it away to 3 who in turn give it to 3 who give it to 3 more and suddenly you have a HUGE impact. Of course there are pitfalls to any pyramid scheme – in this case, the main problem is making people give it away.

There is no way to 'make' someone give your freebie away, however, you can do some things to make it more likely. The most important thing to do is be sure that your give-aways are useful and have actual value. If you give away a product that is nothing more than a bunch of links to your affiliate programs, nobody else will give it away – there is no value in it. However if you create a useful product that gives the reader some real benefit, they will be inclined to give it away themselves.

There are two ways to ensure value and benefit in your give-aways.

1) use real, useful content or a product that provides useful and unique value. 2) make it brandable – in essence, let people put their own information in the book/product when they continue to give it away. Many ebook compilers come with a little bit of software that lets users 'brand' the product with their own information. If you are thinking that this defeats the purpose of giving away products, it doesn't. It simply means that you must be more subtle in your approach.

For example, you make sure the splash page of your ebook/giveaway clearly identifies your homepage as the source of the book. You can make only 1/2 (or 3/4) of the links brandable within the book, include a footer on every page, an opt-in sign-up form on the 'last page' of the book for your email list etc. Above all, make it valuable.

If you still think it isn't possible, just take a look at what Jimmy D. Brown has done. He is widely known as one of the most successful money makers on the net. In a recent interview Jimmy, he revealed that he has NOT ADVERTISED ONCE in over 2 years. He gets all his traffic by giving away brandable ebooks.

Affiliate programs

Another phenomenal method of generating viral traffic and sales is through affiliate programs. In this case, your own affiliate program for your own products. Again, quality and value are key. If you have a cruddy product with a 1% payout, nobody will be interested. Create a reasonable product that offers good value and reasonably unique content (information or service), and you will have a winner.

Creating a product isn't all that hard. It does require a little work of course, but creating a useful ebook, for example, is well within the grasp of most people. The key to making it work is to choose a topic that interests you, and about which you have some knowledge and experience. A little searching on the net, a couple of evenings typing and a 10–20 page ebook is very manageable. Keep in mind that length is not that important. Valuable content is. 100 pages of garbage is just that garbage. 10 pages of useful, valuable content is golden.

One of the extra benefits of having an affiliate program is that you gain access to all of your affiliates, and are then able to make additional offers to them, either to sell them products directly, or offer new affiliate opportunities as you create them.

Clickbank offers a great system for managing any affiliate program that is based on a digitally delivered product or service (ebooks, auto–responders etc.) For a low fee of $49, they take care of EVERYTHING from credit card processing, to real–time tracking, to affiliate payouts. Clickbank also has a HUGE and active body of affiliates ready to take on your products. The only problem is that you don't have direct access to the contact information of these affiliates. However, it is quite possible to get this information from them by simply making your 'join my affiliate program' web page behind an email collection form.

What you do is make the potential affiliate request the affiliate sign–up page location from an autoresponder. This does two things, it filters out the people who simply want a discount off your product, and gives you the contact information of the serious affiliates.

Another rising star is payloadz. They are based on paypal, which has almost 20,000,000 active users. The great thing about payloadz is that they have the entire system secured against link theft, a common problem with paypal links. Unlike many systems that claim to protect your links by encrypting the link (e.g.

payloadz puts all the information into a database and creates a completely new link that is 100% secure. I'm not knocking link cloakers, they are very valuable, and can save you thousands in lost commissions – they are simply not 100% foolproof (and most good ones like will admit that).

The entire process of setting up a product for sale with payloadz takes about 3 minutes. Once this is done, you can use the link anywhere. They also have a very robust affiliate program manager that lets you build your affiliate selling force quickly and easily. Finally, because they are based on paypal, you benefit from a well known name, and a huge user base.

Regardless of what kind of business you manage on the web, you should seriously consider developing viral traffic strategies as part of your overall marketing strategy. Once they are in place, properly developed viral tools will continue to drive free traffic to your site for years. A little investment of your time in the beginning will result in great value in the long term.

Viral Marketing...Is Your Website Infected?

By Bret Forster

Viral...Viruses...Infections...not pleasant subjects for most situations. Unless you're discussing Viral Marketing! Viral marketing techniques can help you create huge increases in both targeted traffic and customers for your website. In this article we'll briefly discuss some of the most effective methods of Viral Marketing.

Before we discuss the different Viral Marketing Techniques, let's clarify what Viral Marketing is. Viral Marketing has nothing to do with computer viruses, causing damage to someone's computer or property, or using deception to create traffic and customers. Viral Marketing includes using legitimate techniques like viral opt-in email, viral ebooks and reports, viral eCourses, and many more!

Let's discuss some great examples of Viral Marketing...

Jimmy D. Brown, the Master of Viral eBook Marketing, has created an Internet Business Empire using free and paid-for viral eBooks and eReports! He creates eBooks and eReports and then allows his affiliates and customers the ability to brand them with their own website and affiliate links. His website, Profits Vault Monthly, offers a monthly membership where he creates a great new eBook product each month. He then allows his members to brand the website links with their own affiliate program links. You can find out more about his program at:

Creating Viral eBooks and eReports and distributing them to your affiliates and website visitors is one of the most effective ways to create viral traffic explosion on your website!

Free Viral Opt-in Ezines -

Viral Opt-in Ezines are another great Viral Marketing technique that uses a very powerful combination. Opt-in Email newsletters or ezines combined with word-of-mouth marketing. The ezine can be HTML-based, email-based, or website or BLOG-based. The key element that makes the ezine viral is getting your subscribers involved. Allowing your subscribers to participate in discussions, creating content, etc. can create a viral word-of-mouth traffic stampede to your website!

Free Viral Reprint Articles -

Viral Reprint Articles are short articles that you allow other webmasters, affiliates, and ezine publishers to reprint or use on their website for free. The only rule for the use of your viral article is that they have to leave your resource box at the bottom of your article. This resource box includes your website link. This creates a viral effect because your viral article gets passed around the Internet on websites and ezines.

Free Viral eCourses -

Last but not least, there's Viral eCourses. Viral eCourses are divided into a series of articles and lessons and are published on an autoresponder. When a person e-mails the autoresponder address, he will receive his first lesson via e-mail within seconds or a few minutes. Then usually every one or two days they will receive the another lesson until the e-course is complete. I've seen e-courses that have ranged from one lesson clear up to 52 lessons long. The most common are 7 lesson or 7 day e-courses. Viral eCourses are extremely popular! Allow other webmasters to use your viral eCourse full of useful information, and watch the highly-targeted web traffic epidemic occur.

In this article, we have covered several Viral Marketing techniques. But we haven't even scratched the surface! Use your creativity and come up with some other great ideas. Just don't discount the power of using Viral Marketing!
