What Kind Of Hair Removal Works

By Keith George

Since time immemorial women have craved for smooth, flawless skin. Over the years, with the blessings of technology this has turned into a reality. However the word permanent hair removal could only mean that it can last for a few weeks, months or even a year. Hair removal techniques reduce the growth of the hair. They usually work towards complete destruction of hair follicle's ability to grow hair yet again. There are several methods used for hair removal.

Electrolysis has proved to be both effective and clinically safe. In this method a hair-like metal probe is inserted into a hair follicle and an electric current is delivered to it through the probe. As a consequence it causes damages to the areas that generate hair. However it is painful, tedious and expensive.

In laser hair removal methods a light is delivered at a specified wavelength from a hand piece into the skin. By targeting the pigment in the hair it causes damage to the hair follicle while sparing the surrounding tissues.

Flash lamps or Intense Pulsed Light is another hair removal method. In this process filtered light is delivered from a hand piece into the skin and causes damage to the hair follicle. It has delivered fairly proper results but has been found to be unsuccessful on un-pigmented hair and also on red and blonde hair. If the treatment is not done properly it might have adverse effects like skin burns, discoloration etc.

Home electrolysis is another method which saves money. It can be done in privacy. One can treat oneself in one's own convenient time. It is an option for those who cannot afford the other expensive processes of hair removal. However there are a lot of side effects like one might suffer from skin damage, swelling, temporary redness that may last for a longer period of time. Moreover some areas are difficult to treat alone.

There are several other methods like shaving with metal blade. Though its effect lasts for a short time it is inexpensive, fast and usually painless. In cream depilatories a chemical dissolves the hair from the skins surface. The effect is for a few days only. It can be a skin and eye irritant for some. Hot wax is applied to skin and a strip of cloth or paper is pressed into the preparation. The strip is pulled away thus taking hairs with it. Tweezing, threading using of rotary epilators sugaring are all home methods.

Undergoing Laser Body Hair Removal

By Jeff Jefferson

Laser body hair removal works better than most of the other methods out there mainly because it is not only painless but lasts far longer than others.

This is because it works by removing the hair from the very follicle, thereby prolonging the time it will take to grow back up again.

While laser body hair removal method is one of the best ways of removing unwanted body hair, it is important for you to know some facts before going ahead with it.

This fact is the high cost of laser body hair removal.

It is not at all cheap to do laser body hair removal. The cost is what usually scares people off, despite the benefits. Many people don't have the kind of money required for laser hair removal.

For example, for you to remove facial hair, you will undergo series of treatments. In some places, these series of treatments could cost upwards to $1,000. There are even other types of laser body hair removal that costs as much as $2,500 dollars or more.

Many people find it very hard to cough out this amount of money for laser body hair removal, despite the advantages it has over other methods of hair removal.

So, if you are considering laser body hair removal, it is important for you to make sure you have the money to pay for it before contemplating it. You could also look around for the cost effective place to undergo your laser body hair removal.

To make you feel better when paying the huge amount of money for laser body hair removal, you should know that it can last up to six to twelve months before you need another one. So, if you add up the cost you usually spend to remove your hair every week or month, it could be as much as the single laser hair treatment that will last you for many months and even up to a year.
