What To Consider And Methods In Building Your Own AdSense Sites Starting Now!

By Larry Evans

It is true that you can generate thousands of dollars per month. By just allowing a particular

AdSense program to display their advertisements into your website, you will be given a percentage from the revenue generated from the impression (click) done by a visitor. In other words, you are on a win-win situation.

In order for you to profit more using AdSense, it is advised that you build two or more AdSense sites. Why two and not one? Creating more sites is much better; remember that you will be competing with top search engines optimizers (sites that are frequently displayed on the first few pages in a search engine). The art of creating AdSense sites is get them listed on the top pages of search engines for free if you choose the right niche.

The revenue that you can generate from these smaller niche sites will be much higher. You do not have to spend on advertising your site. Visitors will be entering your own website and there is a large probability that they will be clicking the ads that are displayed in your site.

So what is this niche? This is the selection of a particular topic with exact keywords that AdSense will pay you premium when a visitor clicks on that particular advertisement. It may not be the most trafficked site; but remember AdSense is serious in paying you once a visitor is interested on it and click their ads.

Building your AdSense Sites

There are three methods to build a website where AdSense can display their ads. These are discussed in the preceding sections.

You will be creating your website for a particular niche market. Normally, you would find the keywords for niche topics with a low number of search results but with a high number of search words. It will be your basis in creating your website which can contain between 20 to 50 pages. Remember that the important factor here is the content; so most probably. You will be integrating well-written content resources (such as articles) that your visitor may be interested to read.

The Single Page Model

Your website will have only a single. Conventionally, it is hard to attract visitors compared with sites having a hundred pages mainly because of less content integrated in it. However, you can still attract visitors by using the Pay-Per-Click (PPC) traffic and submitting your articles to article sites and directories. Another advantage is that the text is highly optimized towards a certain keyphrase that there are no other links that will be followed except the page itself. In this case, there is a great possibility that the visitor will be clicking on the ads. Just make sure that your contents are of great interest to your visitor.

The Number Game Model

You will be creating one site (either a single or multi-page site) that will attract visitors and generates revenues. After seeing the progress, you will start building a similar site that will double your AdSense revenues. It is just like creating a staircase website model; as you create more and more sites, your revenues will increase gradually.

You can try building your own AdSense site using any of the three methods discussed above. Remember that above all; target all your sites around the correct keywords. It will be an excellent way to have your AdSense site generates income.

AdSense Tips: Build Empire And Make Money!

By Alexander Korablev

AdSense is great opportunity for webmasters to make money from their sites. But there are a few webmasters that make more than $500 daily from AdSense. There are seven simple tips to start building own AdSense website and own AdSense Empire.

1. Find high paying keywords. If you want make thousands of dollars from AdSense, you must maximize your revenue from every click.
2. Find quality keyword related content. Create it, buy it or aggregate it from other sites RSS feds. If you have no content, you have no ads on your site. And if you have no ads, you have no money!
3. Drive quality traffic to your AdSense site. Learn SEO and traffic building. The more traffic is on you site, the more money you make from AdSense.

What To Consider And Methods In Building Your Own AdSense Sites Starting Now!

4. AdSense blocks have to look like part of your sites. Change color schemes. If AdSense block looks as an alien from Mars, click throw ratio is small.
5. Use Large Rectangle. I know that you have the option to picking different format. But this format works the best.
6. Place AdSense blocks in your content. AdSense is content related ads. Place it in content you increase click throw ratio.
7. Build own AdSense Empire. When one your site makes some money to you, build another one.
8. Use RSS power. Build sites with aggregated content from other sites RSS feeds.

Follow these tips, if you build content websites. For blogs you have to consider that successful blog is needed in unique content. If you want to start own webblog, do not follow tips number 7 and 8. Focus on building one blog only!

Remember these tips are not hard rules that you have to follow. Experiment and track your results. If one tip don't work for you do not use it. I know that you will find your own rules and build own AdSense cash machine.
