What's stopping you finding your perfect partner?

What's stopping you finding your perfect partner? by Chris Towland

Is it a lack of confidence or perhaps low self esteem? Are you being held back by past events or do you simply need to get the motivation and courage to get out there and find 'the one'?

What would you say if I told you that you can make a massive improvement in all of these areas totally EFFORTLESSLY, simply by using your computer just as you do now?

DON'T TALK RUBBISH!!!!!!

Was that your reaction? Well it was certainly mine until I agreed to test a new software program for a couple of weeks and got superb results!

Here's what happened.....

A couple of weeks ago I installed the software, made a few choices and just left it that's it!

But since then I've noticed a few strange things happening! I have felt a real need to tidy my office and I've actually tidied it (people who know me will agree that that's something that doesn't happen often, if at all). I've also become very motivated and focused on my work I've probably got more 'real' work done in the last week than I did in the previous month.

How did the software help me with this?

What's stopping you finding your perfect partner?

Every time I have looked at my computer in the last few weeks it has been flashing subliminal messages at me. The tiny messages only appear for a fraction of a second at a time (not long enough to read them) but they appear all the time, whether I'm reading email, surfing the internet or whatever. For the first day or so I noticed the messages flashing but now I don't even think about them but they're still there doing their work.

What's me tidying my office got to do with you finding your perfect partner? Well I agree not a lotbut the modules I was testing were 'motivation' and 'business success' and I am convinced that I have seen real changes since starting with the software. The good news for you (and me) is that the software comes with 21 modules that can help in all areas.

There are modules that will help you to:

- Boost your confidence
- Rocket your self esteem
- Develop razor sharp wit
- Quit smoking
- Become more decisive
- Reduce stress
- Get motivated
- Release your past
- Lose weight quickly
- Develop great rapport
- Solve problems
- Improve your memory
- Boost your in*come
- Handle criticism

and there's even a special module that they call the 'Love Power Pack' that includes all the lifestyle changes that you need to attract love.

The subliminal messages apparently work so well because at the speed they're flashed in front of your eyes your conscious mind can't comprehend them and so can't dismiss them but your subconscious mind still understands them and acts on them. In this way, you can gently 'reprogram' yourself without pain or effort.

As an example, if you had a 'post it' note on your computer that said 'I am confident when talking to women' your conscious mind may well say 'No I'm not I've got no confidence!', but if that same message was flashed to your subconscious hundreds of times a day it eventually starts to sink in without you even thinking about it.

What's stopping you finding your perfect partner?

The software simply works automatically in the background so whatever it is you want to change or improve, you simply select the module for boosting your confidence or losing weight or whatever and just leave it to do it's work.

You can also create your own messages if there's something specific you want to target such as 'I remember to feed my cat EVERY morning'.

Again, I know it sounds strange but I tell youIt's worked for me already and I can't wait to see what else I can do with it over the next few months!

Long time readers of my newsletter will know that I've NEVER recommended software to you before after all it's a dating newsletter but I really do think that this software is excellent and really can help you with finding your perfect partner.

The best thing if you're sceptical about this, (just as I was) is that the software comes with a full 100% money back guarantee so you can see what it can do for you at absolutely no risk. You'll also be pleased to hear that there is currently a massively discounted offer available for anyone who is interested.

If you think that this software could help you I would definitely suggest that you get it now and take advantage of the special offer, then give it a try for 28 days If you've not noticed any change or improvement in yourself in that time simply contact the company by email and you'll get every penny of your money back. But I warn you I really don't think you'll be asking for a refund there's certainly no way I'll be stopping using this software and I think that in a few weeks you'll be saying the same!

Online Dating. Is It Taken To Seriously?

By Tyler Casselman

When I look at all of the online dating services I notice one common trend. People take it very seriously into finding their true love. I find it absolutely amazing the amount of people who are looking for their absolute perfect match.

There seems to be so many profiles out there who tell people exactly what it is they want from a partner. It's as if there are owners of a company and they're trying to fill a certain job position. They then take and list their requirements and what they expect from a person. If they don't meet those requirements then they think they're unsuitable. I think that's crazy.

Dating is about getting to know people and then seeing if you enjoy spending time with them. You will often meet people who you thought you would never date and end up having a strong relationship with them. I'm not saying that it isn't good to have certain expectations. It is good to have an idea of what you want in a partner. I'm just saying you need to have an open mind.

So what should you put in your profile?

Instead of a whole big list of stuff like this is what I want and this is what I expect, you should have a touch of personality. Sure you will have certain expectations. You need to personalize them, so they just don't sound like you're looking for a perfect person. If you like to joke around then add some little funnies throughout your profile. You need to show off your personality. Show people how you see the world and that you don't take everything so seriously.

When you go to a nightclub you don't just go to meet someone, you go to have some fun too. You need to look at online dating in the same way. Have some fun with it and don't take it too seriously. You will make things much easier on yourself.
