

When the Snow Melts the Fun is just Begginig

This Free E-Book is brought to you by Natural-Aging.com.

100% Effective Natural Hormone Treatment
Menopause, Andropause And Other Hormone Imbalances
Impair Healthy Healing In People Over The Age Of 30!

When the Snow Melts the Fun is just Begginig

By B.J.Baker

When the Snow Melts the Fun is just Begginig by B.J.Baker

When the snow melts in the Rockies, that doesn't mean the fun ends. With warm, idyllic weather and a lush landscape literally bursting with life, a whole new world awaits your discovering the summertime, giving you all the more reason to make the mountain West a favorite destination.

There's no limit to the activities you can enjoy during the summer in Mountain Resorts. Hike along mountain trails threading through rich green meadows studded with brilliant wild flowers. Feel the rush of whitewater rafting along the River. Discover rugged, untamed territory on a hike. Take in spectacular mountain views from a unique perspective—atop a horse perhaps, or from a hot-air balloon 1,500 feet in the air. If it's culture you want, a whole season of outdoor concerts, art exhibits, rodeos and festivals means there's something for everyone, no matter what your taste. What's more, with the all great discounts to be had for lodging, dining and entertainment, visiting Mountain Resorts in the summer means the whole family can enjoy, even more of this mountain retreat for less than you might think!

So when you start planning your next summer vacation, think about the Mountains in Summer. Covered in white or green, this mountain wonderland will have you returning again and again.

B.J. Baker is an avid outdoor enthusiast who currently resides in The Woodlands, Texas. As a child, BJ accompanied his family on family excursions to Japan, China, South East Asia, Europe and to the Rockies snow skiing. Still traveling the world and instilled with a love for travel and adventure, today BJ is the owner of several travel websites. www.placestosleep.com, www.vacationresorttravel.com, www.advenquest.com, and www.snow-skiing.com.

Backyard Snow Activities For Children

By Nicole Dean

You look outside and see a beautiful blanket of white snow covering the ground. Your children are inside getting more and more restless as the morning progresses.

When the Snow Melts the Fun is just Beggining

The next time this happens, turn off the TV, bundle up the kids, and head outside for some old-fashioned fun in the snow.

Snowman Who says lumps of coal are a bad thing at Christmastime? All you need to make a snowman is a few lumps of coal (or rocks) for eyes and a mouth, a carrot for a nose, sticks for arms, and a scarf and hat to keep him warm, and you'll have a snowman to make Frosty the Snowman envious. If you have very ambitious children, send them out to make an entire snow family. Your kids will be entertained for hours.

Snow Angels Have your children lay down in the snow and move their arms up and down, and their legs in and out. Then, have them stand up. Your little angel will have made an angel in the snow. Add glitter or a garland halo to make your snow angel sparkle.

Build a Snow Fort or Igloo There's no cheaper way to build a playhouse than with snow. Invest in some warm mittens for your kids, and send them outside with some buckets. They may get inspired and create an entire home, with snow-furniture and decorations. You may even provide them with a spray-bottle with water and food-coloring so they can 'paint' their igloo. Serve them hot cocoa with yummy marshmallows in their new home.

Snowball Fight Older kids love a good snowball fight. If you have a fluffy snowy day, jump into the fray with your kids and show them how a good snowball fight is done.

So, the next time you see the kids getting restless, bundle them up in cozy clothes, send them out into the snow, and start some hot cocoa brewing. Grab the camera and enjoy the day.

Nicole Dean welcomes you to -- a free website filled with activities to make memories with your children and

-- a fun and informative

resource for moms who want to make money and save money.

When the Snow Melts the Fun is just Begging

This Free E-Book has been brought to you by Natural-Aging.com.

100% Effective Natural Hormone Treatment
Menopause, Andropause And Other Hormone Imbalances
Impair Healthy Healing In People Over The Age Of 30!