Fish fries - a Wisconsin sampler

In the course of collecting folktales in Wisconsin for almost thirty years, I have sampled over a thousand fish fries. I found them in upscale private clubs and in spots that were bare bones rustic. There are thousands more I haven't seen. WisconsinGuide writer Samm Dowell has picked my favorite - Molly's Grill in Black River Falls. Here are some others I find "distinctive."

- *#10 - Dave's Who's Inn - a young blue collar version of a fish fry/music club. 835 Indiana Avenue, Sheboygan.
- *#9 - Doug's Grand View Inn - classic northwoods spot with year-round outdoors sport enthusiasts. 22270 Highway 63, Grand View/Bayfield County.
- *#8 - Longbranch Saloon - hard by the Marsh country, filled with tall tales and tongue-in-cheek whoppers. Brings out an eclectic crowd. W1936 Eagle Road, Germania.
- *#7 - Sportsman's Grill - nestled in the east bank of the Mississippi River and a great place for soaking up river culture. Though not always available, the catfish platter is worth the trip. Highway 35, Ferryville.
- *#6 - Lakefront Brewery - lively German-style hall, with a family atmosphere. Old Milwaukee flavor! 1872 N. Commerce Street, Milwaukee.
- *#5 - VFW Post 2312 - solid Americana and plenty of living history. A great example of how fish fries build community. 1428 17th Street, Monroe.
- *#4 - Green Lantern - a retreat spot for visitors to the nearby Vietnam memorial at the Highground, the mood is quiet and the fare simple. Fish fry every day! 231 W. 7th Street, Neillsville.
- *#3 - Hookers Resort - lazy summers and cozy winters. Heard my first Norwegian joke here. Highway V, Poynette, on Lake Wisconsin.
- *#2 - Titledown Brewing - rail depot nostalgia, classy atmosphere, and delectable perch. 200 Dousman Street, Green Bay.

*#1 - Polar Bear Pub and Eatery - farmers, construction workers, and card players. Closest fish fry to my farm, with warm proprietor Linda presiding. Highway 39, Linden.

Finally, You've Caught The Perfect Fish. Now, Do You Know How To Fillet Your Fish?

By Catherine Kenyeres

You can't be happier. You have finally caught the perfect fish. Do you know how to fillet your fish? Once you become an expert at fish filleting, you probably will be asked to fillet everyone else's catch.

Firstly, get a good knife and a cutting board or hard surface and lay the fish down on it. You must cut the head of the fish off right to the rear of its gills. Secondly, holding the fish by its tail, take the knife with the blade pointing away from your body and toward where the head was; slice the body of the fish crosswise. The backbone of the fish can be used to direct the knife through.

Thirdly, take one half of the sliced fish and place the fish piece flesh side up. Holding the fish piece by the tail, place the knife between the skin and the flesh and run the knife down the length of the fish piece to remove the skin cutting in the direction of the tail to the head area.

Now, you have a perfectly filleted fish to fry.
