Work Hard Wisely For Success

Work Hard Wisely For Success by Raymond Johnston Jr

This past week, I had another ezine publisher contact me and ask if I would be willing to do an interview for an article he was writing. I am telling you this because one of the questions he asked got the light bulb blinking.

The question "How did you learn what it takes to succeed?"

The list of questions I was provided, all pertained to my experiences on the internet. In the spirit, so to speak, of the line of questions, there was no doubt the question was directed at how I had learned to succeed on the internet.

Yet as I pondered the question, the answer seemed to be appropriate for every success that I had achieved in life. Of course some of the specifics were different, simply because of the tasks involved, but the overall picture was the same.

When I decided to take the plunge into the Internet marketing world, I knew I would be successful. How did I know? Because I was going to do whatever it took to get there.

I know some of you are thinking that means running over people, taking people's money anyway you can. Anything to be successful.

That is not what I mean at all. That comes down to a sense of morality. Do you feel comfortable treating people like that? If you feel that is success, you need to go back to the big drawing board of life.

What I am taking about here is putting forth the time and energy necessary to succeed. Success is within everyone's grasp if they are willing to put forth what it takes to get it.

It still totally amazes me how many people are looking for some miracle that is going to make them successful. Success comes from hard work. If you want to be successful on the net or any other venture of your life, make it happen.

Of course you also need to learn what to work hard at. I have many people tell me about the long hours they put in working a marketing business and still are not making any significant money.

Building a business takes time. I don't care if it's on the internet or down town New York City. Just make sure you spend your time accomplishing something.

What do you spend your time doing? If you are getting closer to your goal of success, then maybe you are spending your time doing the right thing. If you are no closer to your goals then you were a month ago, maybe you need to take a look at how you spend your time.

Learning to spend your time wisely is one of the most important lessons you will ever learn. You've probably heard this a number of times in your life. Yet so many work blindly towards a goal they will never reach.

How do you learn to spend your time wisely? Look around, how are the successful people spending their time? Are you spending your time like them or are you spending your time like the other 95% who will end up failing?

How do you learn how to spend your time in the most efficient way? My advice is to spend more time seeking knowledge and less time doing tasks that aren't producing results.

Spend an hour learning and an hour putting what you learned into practice. Ninety-five percent of the time, you are going to accomplish more than the person who spends two hours working blindly.

Work hard to succeed but learn what to work at from those who are already where you want to go.

How did I learn how to succeed? The same formula that everyone else who succeeds uses.

Work hard wisely.

Develop guts to achieve glory

By Nicholas Dixon

It is just amazing the amount of people who don't have the courage to go after their dreams. They sit around living a life they are not happy with and still they do nothing about it.

And the funny thing is that if you should ask them the reason for this, they start finding excuses left, right and center. They vary from money to age to the economy and others you might be familiar with.

Work Hard Wisely For Success

Many of us are waiting for Lady Luck to pay us a surprise visit. We blindly believe that that will be the end of our troubles. But this is hardly so. We have to work hard and wisely for the success we desire.

To make something of ourselves in this world calls for us to overcome obstacles and setbacks. But my biggest obstacle is my fears and you may find yourself in a similar position.

Not facing our fears and moving on could be the difference between success and failure. So what's to do ?

All it takes is the will and guts to go ahead and create something worthwhile in this world. We can all achieve success but we need to conquer our FEARS.

The man without fear is one who is not living. We all have our personal fears. It can be fear of failure, success or people's opinion. But you have to face them to achieve success.

Ask any successful person and they will tell you this secret. A brave person is someone who acts in spite of his or her fears. So ask yourself, what fears do you need to conquer to reach your goals ?

To your success and mine..... ,

Nicholas
