So you have your own on line business, but you aren't making any money.

Sorry, but I'm not going to try to help you with your existing business, but I will show you a business that you can make money with, simply, and with no cost, other than a little of your time.

It is an on line business that has been around for a number of years. I was first introduced to it back in 2000. I worked it for a few months, and was really dissatisfied with the results. In mid 2004, I found it again. I believe that the business was too young in 2000, but it has grown up into a rather powerful on line means of making money.

So what is this business you can have that will bring in money but with no money output?

I'm talking about making money by reading emails. Yes, you can make a fairly good income by simply reading emails.

Now don't discard this article just yet. Read on and you may be surprised.

It will take 1/2 to 1 hour a day. You can put in more time and make more money, but for a minimum, you should expect to put in at least 1/2 an hour per day.

Okay, so how do you make money reading emails?

Simple. You sign up in some programs that will send you emails to read. There are a lot of programs out there. There are hundreds, if not thousands of programs you can join but you only need to join a few.

The emails you will read usual contain advertisements, but you are not required to buy the products to be paid.

They will send you emails which will pay you anywhere from 1/4 cent per email that you read, to several hundred dollars per email. These two numbers are the extremes. I only work with programs that pay between 5 cents and 10 cents minimum per email.

I know, that doesn't sound like much, but keep reading; it can pay big bucks.

At minimum, you will receive emails that pay, let's say 5 cents for each email that you read. You could expect, after a few months, to start receiving several $60.00, $80.00, and $100.00 deposits, or more into your PayPal account.

However, if you refer others to those programs you belong to, you can earn on what they earn also. You can also earn on the people that they refer. This is where you can start to make some big bucks.

I said earlier, that you can run this business of yours without it costing you anything. That is true, but you will be earning a very minimal amount of money and only on your own efforts. If you advertise your business, you can and will earn more. That is how to get referrals, and having referrals is how you get into the big money.
